HINDS COMMUNITY COLLEGE, RAYMOND, MISSISSIPPI

Lendon Players open October 28

In "Darkside", the Lendon Players' autumn opener, two American astronauts are stranded on the dark side of the moon, where they arrived in a lunar landing module.

Meanwhile, a third astronaut orbits them in the command module, as the three of them, with the help of ground control, try to come up with a way to save the astronauts.

You may gaze at the moon from a safe haven on earth, and shiver deliciously, imagining what it's like up there. For the astronauts, what it's like is a lonesome, godless wilderness where hopes and dreams are cut short; a place where love and death co-exist in zero gravity.

Playwright Ken Jones

technique to tell the story of the astronauts, bringing into the tale two of the wives in scenes which take place at home on Earth.

A space-ish set design, with "stars twinkling all around and the big blue marble of earth arising eerily" (Time), and Hearts of Space music lend to the haunting quality of this new play.

It premieres on Wednesday, October 28; with performances the following week, November 3, 4, 6, and 7. Curtain goes up at 7:30 PM in Brooks Little Theatre. Reserve your seat by calling the Speech and Theatre department at 857-3266. Tickets are $5 and $3; and free with a current Hinds ID.

Instructors attend PTK seminar

Two Hinds Community College staff members have been selected to attend a training session to prepare to teach the Phi Theta Kappa Leadership Development Course at the College.

Dr. Millie Lester, assistant dean of the Jackson Campus Academic/Technical Center; and Kristie Sather-Smith, biology instructor, will attend the session in Airlie, Virginia, October 15-18.

The Leadership Development Course, which is funded through a $1.8 million dollar grant from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation, of Battle Creek, Michigan, was developed by Phi Theta Kappa, international Honor Society of the Two-Year College, especially for students of community, technical and junior colleges, and for community activists who have no formal leadership training.

The course will be offered at Hinds Community College for credit and non-credit, beginning with the spring, 1993 semester.

Rod Risley, executive director of Phi Theta Kappa, says, "This Leadership Development Project affords Hinds Community College the opportunity to provide it's community with an innovative leadership program which will develop today's able and ethical community leaders to be prepared to address the challenges of tomorrow."

Dr. Clyde Muse, president of Hinds Community College, states, "The Phi Theta Kappa Leadership Program is a very significant program, and one which Hinds is very proud to offer to develop leadership in the student body and in the community."

The W. K. Kellogg Foundation was established in 1930 to "help people help themselves." As a private grantmaking foundation, it provides seed money to organizations and institutions that have identified problems and have designed constructive action programs aimed at solutions. The Foundation supports programs in the broad areas of agriculture, education, health leadership, and youth. Programming priorities concentrate grants in the United States, Latin America, the Caribbean, and southern Africa.

The People's choice Who will it be ?

It is that year again. The year in which we choose the person we want to run our country for the next four years. We can choose President George Bush or Governor Bill Clinton. Our choice can be based on who can do the best at making America's future brighter, or, we can base our choice on who can criticize the other the best.

Throughout the 1992 campaign, each candidate has brought out faults about the other candidate. Faults that have little or no impact on the real issues. They should talk about issues that need to be brought out and handled. Issues like inflation. It seems that every time you turn on the news you hear about inflation going up. Also, they need to talk about resolving this country poverty level crisis. With jobs becoming scarce, more people are starting to wonder where their next meal is going to come from. With issues like this, we don't have time to hear about marriage problems, or who sleeps with whom.

Presidential candidates should be a good example of an American citizen, and no one is perfect, so personal problems shouldn't even be a primary focus in a political campaign; instead, public problems should be met with possible solutions and actions. For example, senior citizens are being denied the right to live the life they have worked so hard to make for themselves, because the government is constantly cutting Social Security and Medicare. What kind of incentive does this give the younger generations that are about to step out into the real world.

What does putting each other down have to do with issues concerning military spending. We, the U. S. of A. spend more money on military than we do on education. Why?

Fixing the economy, upgrading the educational system, giving Social Security and Medicare back to senior citizens, helping the homeless help themselves by having jobs to go to, should be the focus of the '92 political campaign. The problems won't go away over night. But, if we can take two steps forward and only one step back; instead of two steps backwards and none forward for progress, then we will keep getting closer. So stop the nonsense that makes our country and our leaders look bad.

Campus Poll

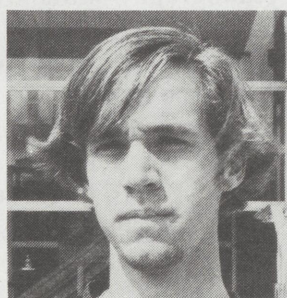

Students voice election opinions

Question: What is one subject that you feel the presidential candidates are not putting enough emphasis on and why?

Toni Thompson - "Environment, because I think President Bush thinks more about jobs than the environment."

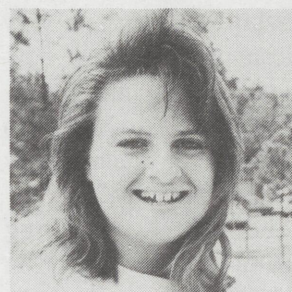

Annie Nelson - "Education, They don't have enough money for our schools."

Christopher Box - "Education, because we need more money in the Math and Science departments, so we can help further the education of our students."

Willie Ruby - "Abortion, because there are more and more girls getting pregnant and they have no one to help them."

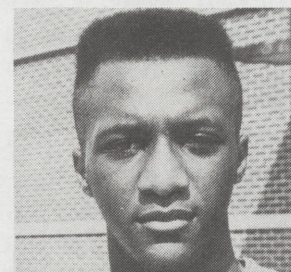

Carrie Hill - "Homelessness, because they are always giving food to other countries, but not us."

Brenda Fells - "Unemployment, because they avoid it. Instead the government emphasizes other things."

Lisa Hammond - "Homeless people, because the government usually needs the money for unnecessary things."

Michele Flowers - "Environment, because nobody is doing anything about it."

Roderick Magee - "Budget deficits. So many people are unemployed and homeless, and the government won't do anything about it."

"Presidential Speaking"

by
Dr. Clyde Muse

We would like to welcome our returning students, entering freshmen, and other first-time students to the 1992 fall semester of the Hinds Community College District. We trust that you will experience a unique and most pleasant educational experience here at Hinds. We feel that you will find our faculty and staff most deserving of its reputation for being dedicated, efficient, eager to serve, and concerned with the needs of our students while providing quality educational experiences for each student.

The approximately 12,000 student enrollment this fall makes the college one of the largest institutions of higher learning in the state. It appears at this time that we will have approximately a 1 percent increase in enrollment. This represents an increase of about 150 students. The largest increase being a 5.8 percent increase in full-time technical students. We certainly appreciate the confidence that our students have placed in us by enrolling in our college. Many Mississippians are discovering the fact that they can cut the cost of higher education dramatically by starting at a community college.

The Hinds Community College District consists of four campuses—Raymond, Utica, Jackson, Rankin, and the Vicksburg-Warren County Branch. The Jackson Campus includes the Academic/Technical Center, the Nursing/Allied Health Center, and the Universities Center. We are extremely proud of our student body and the contributions made by our students on our campuses, on the campuses of other institutions, and in the world of work.

Mississippi pioneered the community college movement nationwide. The community college is a uniquely American institution. It is the institution that sits in a position of transition. More than any other institution, it has a built-in natural relationship with working America.

We appreciate the trust you have shown in our college by enrolling and we look forward to providing a quality educational experience while you are here.

This coming year we anticipate that we will receive from Hinds, Rankin, Warren, and Claiborne counties approximately $4.1 million for capital improvement projects.

The Hinds County Board of Supervisors has added additional millage of approximately $3.5 million to retire the bonds for the Nursing Allied Health Center Annex. Also, the Hinds Community College Board of Trustees requested that the Claiborne County Board of Supervisors add an additional mill for capital improvement. This additional millage has been approved.

These funds will be used to pay off bonds of past building projects, as well as new projects, and the renovation and repair of buildings and facilities. The most significant new project underway is the Nursing/Allied Health Center Annex. The new Cafeteria on the Raymond Campus is scheduled to open in January 1993.

The assistance of approximately $1.7 million a year from the state for the past two fiscal years for renovation and repair has been very helpful with various projects throughout the district.

I would like to express appreciation to all of the people who have had a part in the improvement of our physical facilities. No doubt, our campuses are the most beautiful and provide an atmosphere conducive to learning. I am proud of the wide variety of programs and services being provided to our students.

Your student officials have been meeting and planning activities for the opening of this session. I am tremendously impressed by the work of your leaders and feel that they have some exciting plans for students for the coming year. I would challenge each of you to work with your elected student leaders by becoming involved and supporting these

by Becky Criswell

The Associated Student Government has high hopes and many goals for this year. One of our goals for this year is to make ASG more effective in communicating with the students and faculty. By doing this we hope to make H.C.C. Student Body one of the most active in the state. We feel this will make Hinds an even better place for students to receive a quality education. However, this goal is unattainable without the cooperation of you and your club.

I urge you to include a representative from your club in this year's A.S.G. leadership class. The class will meet every Tuesday from 3:00 until 4:30. Your Senator will keep your club up-to-date as to what A.S.G. is doing for the Student Body and in turn will give input from your club to A.S.G. and will make suggestions on how we can make Hinds the best it can be. Your A.S.G. Senator will receive 1 hour college credit for this class. A.S.G. is only a small percentage of the Student Body and in order to represent the students more adequately, it is imperative that we have a representative from your organization. We must work together to meet the needs of the Student Body.

Please send your Club Officer Roster, because without this your club cannot be declared active for 1992-1993 and will not be included in the Yearbook. If you are unable to do any of the above please contact myself, Becky Criswell, Dr. Barbara Blankenship, or Tara Serio at 857-3371. If we have not heard from you by September 15th we will assume that you will not be sending a senator. Thank you for your cooperation!

One of our big events for the Fall semester will be Homecoming. Homecoming week will be October 19th 24th.

Festivities include Pep Rally, Prayer Breakfast, Homecoming Court Elections and of course the football game against Gulf Coast on the 22nd. This will be a week you may want to pay close attention in order to get in on all the action. One thing's for sure, you will not want to miss it!

ASG Raymond Campus Senate represents every student attending the Raymond Campus. It is very important to us that we have your input. Please take the time to catch any ASG member, and let them know how things are around campus. We operate through you! If you can not locate anyone from ASG, slip a suggestion in one of the suggestion boxes you will find around campus. In order to properly represent you, we must have your suggestive contributions.

I can be found Monday through Friday in the Dean of Students Office located in Student Union Building Room 215.

The phone number is 857-3232 or 3371. You may write to HCC, P.O. Box 990, Raymond, Ms 39154. Until next time...

Eagles crush Tigers 44-22

As the Eagles of Hinds Community College attacked and defeated the Tigers of Coahoma Community College 44-22 in the season opener in Clarksdale, the large home grown mosquitoes did the same to the spectators.

If the bugs weren't bad enough, then with 11:57 to play in the second period, and as the sun set in the West, the lights wouldn't come on. a 35 minute delay was caused until power could be restored to the Coahoma Stadium.

By the time the sun had set, Hinds had already managed to put 16 points on the scoreboard against the Tigers. The first points came during the first period on a 30-yard field goal by Hinds' Chris Pierce of Florence. Two minutes later, with 7:44 remaining in the first period, Hinds' Dexter Thomas of Jackson scored on a 52-yard punt return with Chris Pierce adding the point after.

Early in the second period the Eagles added another TD to the board when Ernest Jones of Jackson made a touchdown on a 60-yard pass play from Hinds quarterback Marcus Riddley of Jackson. The Eagles went for the 2 point conversion but the attempt failed, and as the sun set the Eagles led 16-0.

Shortly after play resumed Coahoma's Terry Lee fumbled the ball on a 10-yard pass from Michael Brown, letting the Tigers' Eddie Williams recover the ball and carry it in for a 30-yard TD. Michael Brown then made the 2 point conversion and the Tigers were on the scoreboard.

With 1:53 to play in the first half, and after Hinds' Stacy Garrett had moved the ball 21-yards in five plays, Hinds quarterback Marcus Riddley carried from the 8-yard line for another Eagle touchdown. Chris Pierce added the point after, giving Hinds a 23-8 lead at the half.

The only score in the third quarter came with 13:28 remaining on the clock, when Hinds quarterback Marcus Riddley connected with Dexter Thomas on a 52-yard pass play for the TD. Chris Pierce added the extra point.

During the fourth period Hinds' Pierce missed a 38-yard field goal attempt, allowing the Tigers to work their way down field again, and with 10:26 remaining in the third period Dameion Mattison carried the ball in from the 1-yard line for the TD. Mattison also carried the ball in for the 2 point conversion. The Eagles wasted little time getting on the board again with Marcus Riddley connecting to Breylon Bradford on a 51 yard pass play for the TD. Pierce added the point after, and the Eagles were up 37-16.

With only 4:05 remaining in the game both teams managed to score again with Hinds scoring after Stacy Garrett carried from the 2-yard line for the TD with Pierce again adding the point after. The Tigers scored with 2:35 on the clock when Damien Mattison hit Will Richardson on a 40-yard pass for the TD and the 2 point conversion failed.

Hinds had 158 yards rushing and 205 passing while Coahoma had a minus 1-yard

GARRETT CARRIES - Stacey Garrett of Roanoke, Alabama, running back for the Hinds Eagles rushes during the Hinds vs. Coahoma game in Clarksdale. Garrett made a touchdown during the game and the Eagles defeated the Tigers 44-22 in the season opener.

Eagles lose to Wildcats

Rallying mid-way through the fourth quarter was too late for the Hinds Community College Eagles to win over the Wildcats of Pearl River as Hinds suffered their first loss of the season 21-15.

The Eagles out passed the Wildcats with 133 yards to 106 for the Wildcats but Pearl River surpassed the Eagles in rushing with 256 yards to Hinds 144.

Hinds first score of the game came with 8:37 to play in the fourth when Stacy Garrett of Roanoke, Alabama carried from the 1 yard line for the Eagle TD. Kentress Hampton of Utica made the 2 point conversion for the Eagles. Minutes later Hinds second and last touchdown of the game was made by Dwayne Mangum of Pearl on a 15-yard pass from Eagle quarterback Marcus Riddley of Jackson. Chris Pierce of Florence made the extra point.

The Eagles were in possession of the ball deep in the Wildcat territory with only a couple of minutes to play in the game when a Riddley pass was intercepted by the Wildcats.

The Wildcats scored early in the first period on a 44-yard pass play from Dayna Hall to James Holloway and Brandon Murray making the extra point for PRC. With 48 seconds remaining in the first period Hall carried for 30-yards for Pearl River with Murray again making the point after.

No points were added to the board during the second period and at the half the Wildcats were leading Hinds 14-0.

Early in the third period Hinds Damon Stevens of Puckett intercepted the ball and returned it to the 27-yard line. However, a couple of plays later the tide turned as the Wildcats intercepted for PRC. The Wildcats last touchdown of the game came on a 70yard run by Chris Ryan with Murray making the point after.

MANGUM SCORES—Dwayne Mangum of Pearl, #81, scores for the Hinds Community College Eagles on a 15-yard pass from quarterback Marcus Riddley of Jackson. The Eagles lost their first home game of the season against the Wildcats of Pearl River 21-15.

Southeastern Regional Tournament at Hinds

Northeast Tigers shutout by Hinds

In a downpour and on a rain soaked field in Booneville, the Hinds Community College Eagles took a 34-0 win over the Tigers of Northeast Mississippi Community College.

With the first quarter passing without any points on the board, the second period did almost the same until the last two minutes when Hinds recovered a Tiger fumble on the 15-yard line. Alfred Wilson moved the ball to the 10 for the Eagles and with 29 seconds before halftime, Hinds' Marcus Riddley of Jackson connected on a 8-yard pass to Carlos Lindsey for the TD. Chris Pierce of Florence made the point after and the Eagles led 7-0 at the half.

During the third period the Eagles added three touchdowns to the board. The first came after Willie Fletcher intercepted a Tiger pass and with 12 minutes remaining Riddley ran the ball in from the 21-yard line for the TD. Pierce added the point after. The second touchdown by the Eagles was on a 4-yard run by Kentress Hampton of Utica and again Pierce made the point after.

The third TD was carried 16-yards by Marcus Hull of Jackson into the end zone but fumbled and was recovered by Hinds' Dwayne Mangum of Pearl for the TD. The extra point attempt never got off because the ball was snapped over Pierce's head therefore giving the Eagles a 27-0 lead at the end of the third period.

The most exciting play of the game came in the fourth period with 11:03 to play when William Ford of Jackson intercepted the ball from the Tigers on the 8-yard line and made a 92-yard return for the touchdown. Chris Pierce made the extra point and the Hinds Eagles shut-out the Tigers 34-0 and moved to a 2-1 overall record.

Hinds had 211 yards rushing and 48 passing while Northeast had 102 rushing and 74 passing.

1956-58, football, basketball, track

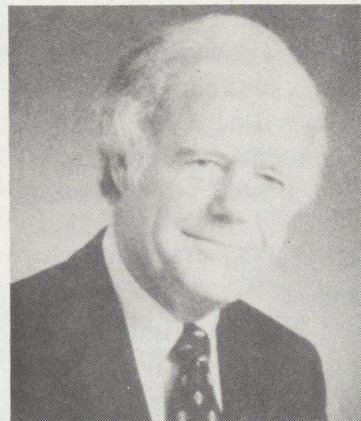

An all around sportsman and Campus Favorite while at Hinds, Levi Barber was at his best as a half back for the football Eagles. He was the leading scorer when the team became State champions, in 1957.

After serving on the USS Forestal, 1959-61, with the U.S. Navy, he entered Louisiana College on a football scholarship. There, he played offensive half back and defensive cornerback.

Defensively he had one interception for a 58 yard touchdown. He also had 16 solo tackles and 16 assisted tackles, and was the team's leading rusher.

After earning his bachelor of science degree in education at L. C., he took a teaching position at a Bastrop, Louisiana high school, and coached football, basketball, and golf; and then went to Kaplan, where he coached until 1975.

He has worked for Columbia Gulf Transmission Company at Pecan Island, La., for 12 years as a plant operator, and has coached elementary and high school league baseball during the summers. He has served as official at basketball games for 10 years.

Edward O. Kelson

Barber and his wife, Susan, live in Lafayette, Louisiana.

EDWARD O. KELSON
1946-1948, football, boxing

Before entering Hinds, Edward Kelson served as a member of the Marine Corps' 5th Amphibious Reconnaissance Battalion. His Bronze Star Medal was awarded for hazardous duty.

As a Hinds freshman, in addition to serving as treasurer of his class, he played offensive center and defensive linebacker on the Conference Championship winning Eagle team.

As a sophomore, he played offensive and defensive tackle. While he captained the football team to a League Championship, he was also boxed his way to State and Mid-South Golden Gloves light heavyweight championships.

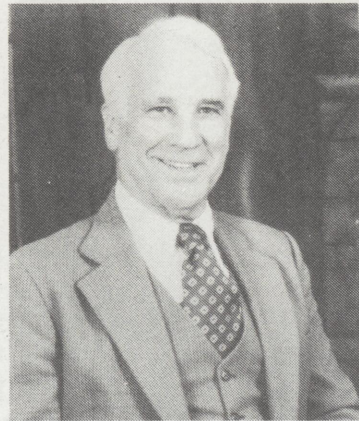

Kelson, turning down other football scholarships, wound up on the gridiron at the University of Southern Mississippi.

After graduation, he coached at Texas City High School for 14 years, before becoming director of athletics for the Texas City Independent School District. He then served the U. S. Department of Education as a teacher appraiser for the Carrollton Farmers Branch Independent School District for 5 1/2 years, retiring in January, 1992.

Kelson, and his wife, Sandy, live in Lewisville, Texas.

WALTER H. GIBBES
1931-1934 Student
1938-1980 Coach of Girls Basketball, Instructor, Vo-Tech Dean

While attending Hinds Junior College from 1931 to 1934, there was no sign that

Walter H. Gibbes

Walter Gibbes would return to Hinds as one of its most outstanding coaches, and a pioneer in vocation-technical education. As a commuter business administration major, he was more interested in competing on the debating team and singing in the College Quartet.

After his 1936 graduation from Mississippi State University, he began coaching at the Hinds Junior College High School; and by 1941, he was starting to teach vocational and technical subjects as a forerunner to the extensive vo-tech program which he later developed at Hinds.

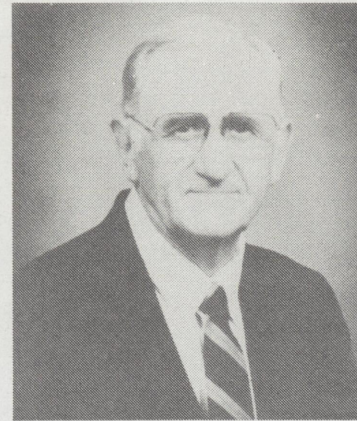

Gibbes took a leave of absence for wartime duty with the Air Force, where he attained the rank of Major. He returned to Hinds, in 1945, as principal of the high school, with teaching duties in business administration and psychology.

From 1946 through 1951, Gibbes coached Eaglette basketball. His 1948-49 and 1949-50 teams went undefeated and were state champions. His overall coaching record was 82-8.

In 1955, he received his M.E. degree from Mississippi College, and continued with advanced studies at the University of Mississippi and Louisiana State University.

In 1946, he became coordinator of the College vocational department, and for thirty-four years nurtured the vocational technical concept in higher education. He led the vo-tech division from a small department to a major college division, from which he retired in 1980 as dean. In 1981, the new vocational-technical building on the Raymond Campus, Walter H. Gibbes Hall, was dedicated in his honor.

Gibbes died in September of 1987. He is survived by his wife, Henrietta, and children,

Troy Arlis Ricks

Annette Rayburn, and Walter Gibbes, Jr.

TROY ARLIS RICKS
1951-1970 Head Basketball Coach
1970-1983 Director of Veterans Affairs

Troy Ricks was a natural athlete who excelled in basketball from grade school through his two years, 1937-1939, at Sunflower Junior College, where he was MVP and All State.

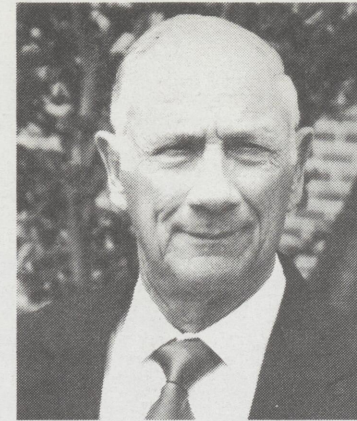

At Delta State College, his team finished third in the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball tournament in 1940. He was selected for the NAIB All Tournament and All American teams in 1940 and 1941, and was the leading scorer with an average 21 points per game, and was elected to the Delta State Sports Hall of Fame in its second year.

Ricks played professional basketball before entering the Army, where he saw action in the South Pacific, an attained the rank of Captain.

He coached at Saltillo High School and Copiah-Lincoln Junior College before becoming principal of the Hinds high school in 1949. His duties included teaching math, and coaching basketball and football. His two-year basketball coaching record was 40-3, and his football team played in the championship game one year.

He was head basketball coach at Hinds Junior College, 1951-1970, with his 1967 team winning the College's first State Championship. His overall basketball coaching record was 323-148, and reflects several state and region titles. In 1970 he received the Distinguished Service Award from the Mississippi Association of Coaches.

In addition to basketball, Ricks also coached the College baseball team for a year, in 1957, and won the State Junior College Baseball Championship with a 9-1 record.

Ricks served the College as director of veteran affairs from 1970 until his 1983 retirement.

Ricks lives in Raymond with his wife, Maude Enis Ricks. Their children are daughter, Ricky Mallory, and sons, Troy, Jr., and William Ricks.

CHARLES E. SHORES
1946-1948 football

When he arrived at Hinds, in 1946, Charles "Popeye" Shores was fresh from duty aboard a Navy attack transport ship in the South Pacific.

When he enrolled in the refrigeration and air conditioning program, he also signed on with the Eagle football team. He was popular on campus, and was crowned King of the Penny Fair one year.

He was a versatile player, and alternately played most positions. In his first year, the Eagles were undefeated; and in both years he earned two letters and was named All Star and All Conference.

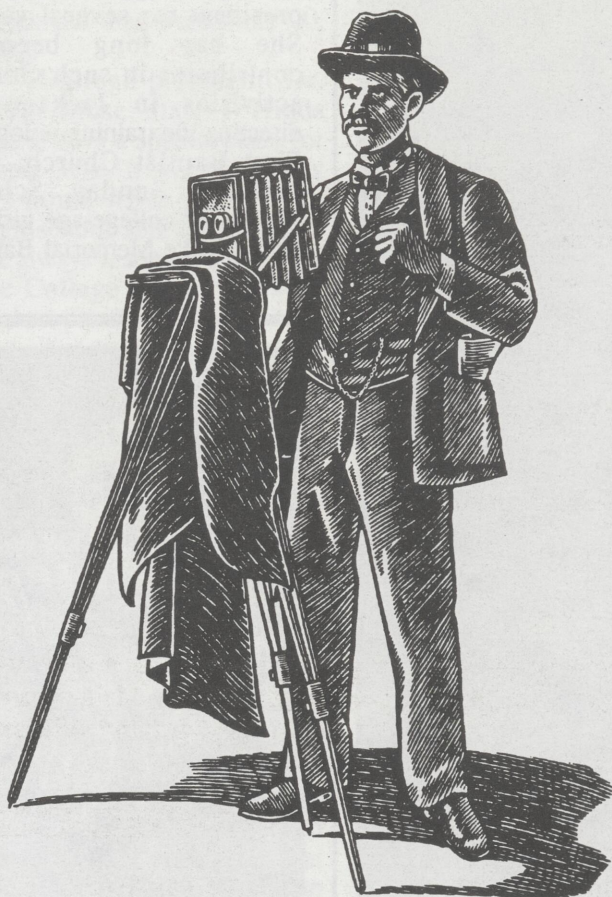

After graduating from Hinds, he worked as a refrigeration engineer for 14 months, before becoming a firefighter. He retired as Captain of the Jackson Fire Department, after 21 years, and for the past 22 years, he has been employed with Standard Stationers and Office Source, Inc.

Through the years he has served as an athletic official - 34 years with junior college football; 44 years with high school football; and 25 years with high school, college, semi-pro and American Legion baseball.

Shores lives in Jackson, with wife, Mary. They have two sons, James, and Charles.

Bungee Jumping No room for mistakes

By Brian Jantz

"Here's your giant rubber band. Count to three, and then jump. It's only a 150 foot free-fall, and then you will have the biggest rush of your life." That is what the instructor told me as I put my life in the hands of a rubber band.

This rush of adrenaline that I am talking about is bungee jumping, and it has become one of the biggest trends that the world has seen.

Bungee jumping is the jumping off of a platform, 75-150 feet in the air, or the jumping off of a bridge that is the height of an eight story building. The jumper is given an elastic rope, which is placed around the ankle. The jumper then walks out onto a platform. The jumper then counts to three, and then jumps. From there it is straight down.

While in the air, the jumper feels a burst of adrenaline pumping through his veins, as well as feeling extremely nervous. When the jumper reached the end of his rope, he bounces over halfway back up and continues to bounce until the rope loses its elasticity.

When Jay Bennett, a freshman at Hinds in Raymond, was asked about his experience with bungee jumping he said, "You stand there nervous and shaking. You wait and wait until you're falling. Once you have finished you can say you bungee jumped."

Bungee jumping began on Pentecost Island as a springtime event. People did this in order to show their courage in front of their peers. Today it is done purely for the fun of it.

Since then, bungee jumping has spread from France to America. The cost of bungee jumping depends on where you do it. It can cost anywhere from $50.00 on the west coast to $150.00 on the east coast.

Just like everything else, bungee jumping can be dangerous. There have been a few deaths and casualties due to carelessness and bad equipment. Wild Adventure, located in Hattiesburg, sets regulations on bungee jumping. They say you must participate in a course that tells you what you can't do, like: no bending your head or no grabbing at any objects.

If you are considering bungee jumping be sure to check out the site and the company you choose to jump with.

Anna Bee named Alumni Service Award Recipient

Pioneer of Precision Dance Teams, Dean of Judges, Charm Specialist, Uplifter of Youth, Leader of Mississippi's Goodwill Ambassadors...these are just a few of the ways people have tried to sum up the essence and commitment of Anna Cowden Bee, the 1992 Alumni Service Award recipient.

"Mrs. Bee is without a doubt one of Hinds' staunchest supporters, and is very deserving of this award," says Jackie Granberry, director of Development.

President of the College, Dr. Clyde Muse, says, "Mrs. Bee's contributions to the College over the years have been just outstanding. Her leadership of the Hi-Steppers and the way they represent the College has been exemplary."

The Hi-Steppers' reputation has earned them bids to perform beyond their regular half-time duties. They are as quick to accept invitations to perform at local grade schools and nursing homes, as they are to perform at national conventions in St. Louis, Baltimore, Buffalo, Colorado Springs, and Atlanta; and nationally televised football games such as the Sugar Bowl, Gator Bowl, Hall of Fame Bowl, and Senior Bowl.

Mrs. Bee states, "The Hi-Steppers are a year around organization. Even in the summer, we try to have a performing group ready, if we're needed."

Mrs. Bee, a native of Birmingham, Alabama, and a graduate of Howard College, has served Hinds for the past forty years as the guiding force behind the Hi-Steppers, and, unofficially, as founder and director of the Miss Hinds Pageants, for 32 years, and coordinator of homecoming coronations.

In addition, she has been at the forefront in making the Miss America preliminary pageants as strong as they are in Mississippi, according to Jack Hite, director of Student Activities for the College.

"Mrs. Bee, is one of the founders of the tradition that Mississippi has of being a national champion in pageants," he says.

In light of her full-time official duties for Hinds, the catalog of Bee's time-consuming activities - working with Miss Hinds pageants, advising and training contestants, coaching and escorting Miss Mississippi winners to Atlantic City, and in judging all types of pageants all over the state, - belong almost to another lifetime.

"She still advises the Young Woman of America Pageant (formerly the Junior Miss Pageant)," he says. "And she judges drill teams, helping with tryouts all over the state. She helps with Miss Hospitality pageants, and has worked with Mrs. Mississippi contestants. I don't think there is a pageant in Mississippi that she hasn't been involved in in some way."

Her concern for helping young people shine doesn't begin and end with the already beautiful and confident beauty contestant. One of the things she has done that she says gives her a lot of satisfaction, has been conducting charm clinics for teenagers.

It was while teaching dance in Jackson, in 1952, that Bee was tapped by then-Hinds president, the late George McLendon, to develop the fledgling Hinds Junior College dance team. In just a few years, she had turned the Hi-Steppers into such a nationally recognized, crowd pleasing dance team, that the New Orleans Saints made a bid for her to develop a similar team for them...a tempting offer which she turned down.

In addition to bowl games, the Hi-Steppers have performed before the Mississippi Legislature and the U. S. Congress. They were smash hits at two World's Fairs (New York and New Orleans), and a Canadian National Exhibition. They have performed with such high wattage stars as Danny Thomas, Bob Hope, and Al Hirt. They have graced the Mardi Gras Krewe of Carrollton Ball for 25 years, and the Neshoba County Fair for 30 years. They were the subject of a color feature in National Geographic.

Throughout her 40 years with Hinds, Bee has brought to the Hi Stepper groups not only her enthusiasm for performing, but also her personal philosophies. Her own commitment to community service has steered the Hi-Stepper tradition of service toward such organizations as Easter Seals and Toys for Tots.

Bee is currently listed in Who's Who Among American Women: the World's Who's Who of Women, and The International Register of Profiles. This year her name was added to the Who's Who in American Education.

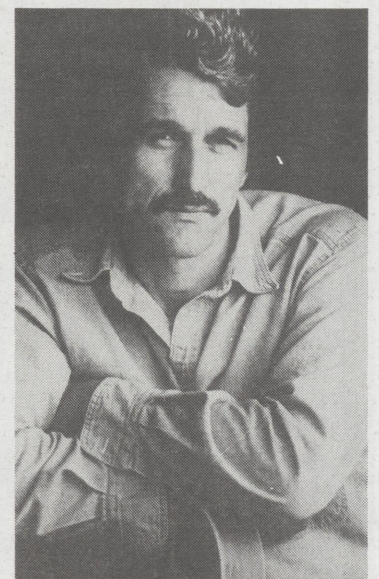

A listing of official awards that have come to Mrs. Bee in just the last dozen years include: 1982 Distinguished Faculty Member of the Year, by the HJC Alumni Association; a 1981 Resolution by the Mississippi Legislature for contributions to the Youth of Mississippi; the coveted Hinds Community College 3-E Award, in 1986; the WLBT "Spirit of Mississippi" Award, in 1988; a Resolution from the HCC Board of Trustees, in October, 1986; recognition by the American Business Women, for 25 years of directing the Jackson Junior Miss Pageant, in 1987; Lifetime Membership in Easter Seals, 1987; and the Key to the City of Mobile, in 1988.

She is married to Alon Bee Sr., a retired broadcasting executive. Their son, Alon Bee, Jr., is a vice president for Deposit Guaranty National Bank, and in recent years has helped his mother by serving as master of ceremonies for the Miss Hinds Pageant. Daughter Marty Foote, serves as a program manager with the office of Social Services, in the department of Human Services. Three grandchildren round out the family. They are Allison Foote, 19, who served as a Hi-Stepper for a year;

Randle Blake Bee, 10; and Paige Bee, 6, who already has some Hi-Stepper moves down pat.

Mrs. Bee, who resides in South Jackson, is active with the Alta Raymond Garden Club, which she has served as president for several years. She has long been a contributor in such church activities in Jackson as directing the training union for First Baptist Church, and teaching Sunday School classes for college-age girls at Daniel Lake Memorial Baptist Church.

Walter Liniger

Blues artist speaks at HCC

Walter Liniger, who for the past several years has delighted Hinds audiences with his Blues interpretations, both solo and in concert with "Son" Thomas, will serve Hinds October 27-30 as Artist-in-Residence, according to Peggy Brent, chair of the Raymond Campus English department.

Liniger, who is a researcher with the Blues Archives at the University of Mississippi, will present eight lectures, "Echoes in Blues," in Cain Hall Auditorium, and will make as many informal class visitations as time permits, says Brent.

His programs will focus primarily on relating the music, history, sociology and philosophy of the blues to selected literary works. Among the authors whose work he will include are William Faulkner, Richard Wright, Maya Angelou, Margaret Walker, and Ellen Douglas.

Lectures will be presented on Tuesday and Thursday, October 27 and 29, at 9:30AM and 11AM each day; and Wednesday and Friday, October 28 and 30, at 9AM and 10AM each day.

Louis Strickland named Alumnus of the Year

Louis Gene Strickland, member of the HCC Class of 1947 and the 1986 Sports Hall of Fame, will be honored posthumously during October Homecoming activities as the 1992 Alumnus of the Year. Strickland died September 20, 1992.

College president, Dr. Clyde Muse, states, "Hinds was always a special place for Louis Gene. It was practically his home when he went to high school and college here. He always made his support of the College one of his very highest priorities.

It is true that Strickland gave steady, supportive service as a member of the HCC Development Foundation Board, the Hinds Alumni Association, and the Rankin County Alumni Chapter. Because of this, and his service as president of these organizations, his name had become synonymous with Hinds Community College.

Strickland once said, "Hinds had a tremendous influence on my life. It was very unusual for anybody in my community to go to college...and I feel blessed that I had the opportunity to go to Hinds."

That opportunity arose out of a love of sports; and, though he had no football experience, the boy from Benton, Mississippi took his last year of high school at Hinds, in 1944, and gave a stellar performance on the College football team.

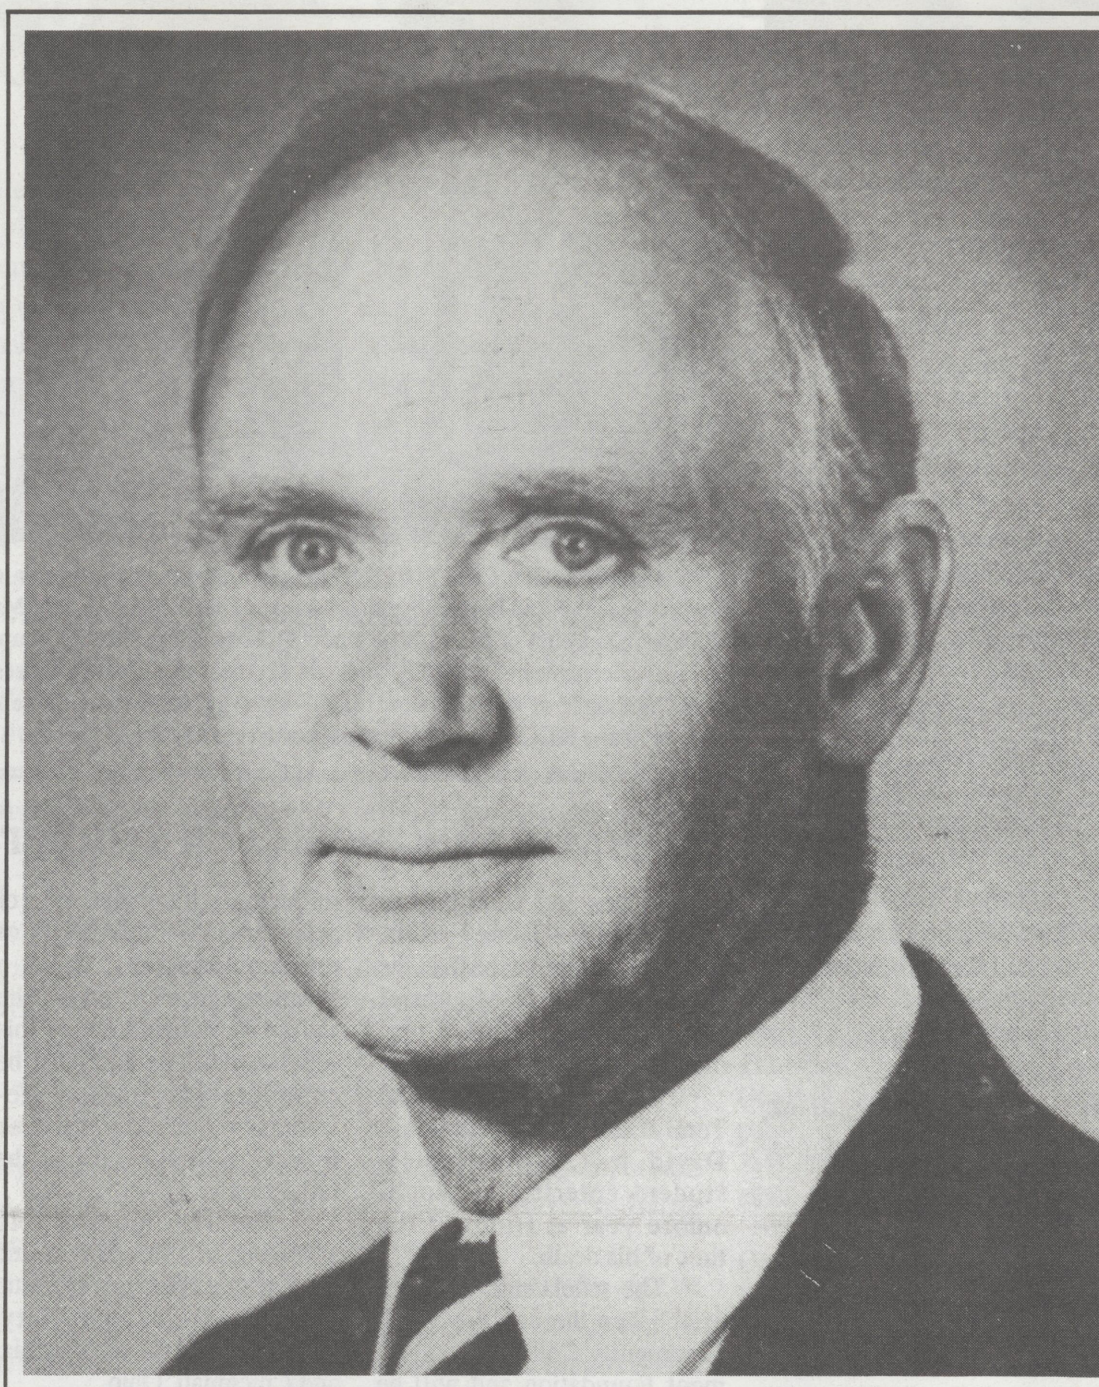

After taking a year out to serve in World War II, he returned to Hinds, and then continued on to Delta State University under a football scholarship.

With the exception of a five-year "flyer" into the entrepreneurial business world, Strickland's first 16 career years were devoted to young people as he taught and coached sports at Picayune and Brandon high schools.

"I discovered that business was all about making money," he said, "and that just didn't bring me any satisfaction. I realized I had to be helping people in some way in order to be happy."

He then returned to Brandon High School for another five years and led the football team to the Little Dixie Conference Championship in 1966 and was named a Star Teacher in 1967. He then joined the Mississippi Department of Vocational Rehabilitation for the Blind, in 1967.

He signed on as a counselor for the department's business enterprise program, and a year later became a facility specialist for the "Rehab," coordinating the evaluation and training programs at facilities for the blind in Mississippi.

He also planned and helped set up a number of facilities for the blind in the state. Among these was the Addie McBryde Center for the Blind, in Jackson, which he later served as director from 1972 until his 1990 retirement.

If the name Louis Strickland also has been synonymous with the Addie McBryde Center and services for the blind, it is because, as his longtime friend and colleague at the Center, Dr. James Cotten, says, "His philosophy was, 'We always do what is best for the client.'"

This philosophy, Cotten says, enabled Strickland to develop a model comprehensive center for the blind.

"People came from all over the world to study this 'model' center and copy what we were doing right," states Cotten.

Barbara Joyner, Strickland's secretary since 1971, says, "He was a very firm director, but he was always fair with everybody. We are really viewed as the top center for the blind in the nation. We have a lot of people come here from other states to look at our programs to see how they can improve theirs. Mr. Strickland had a lot to do with that."

Strickland became an active member of organizations connected with his field, including the Association for Education and Rehabilitation of the Blind and Visually Impaired, the American Council of the Blind, and the Mississippi Association of Workers for the Blind, for which he served a term as president. And, according to Charles Mooney, secretary of the Brandon Lions Club, he was been an exceptionally productive member of that Club, which is part of Lions International, a world service organization devoted to supporting services for the blind.

Strickland is survived by his wife, Bonnie Jean, and their three daughters, Sharon Cannon (Class of 1973), Susan Crawford, and Stephanie Smith, and six grandchildren.

Special congratulations are due to the football cheerleaders and Ernie the Eagle for their outstanding achievements at the 1992 Universal Cheerleaders Association competition held at Middle Tennessee State University. Honors received included the Most Collegiate Squad, first place in Fight Song, and third place in Cheer/Chant. Also, Ernie the Eagle was selected as the Most Superior Mascot.

At Hinds, athletic competition and achievement are strong. The most recent evidence of this is the 1991-92 State championships which Hinds won in men's tennis, women's tennis, and track. state championship runners-up included women's basketball, golf, and softball. Winning the south championship included football and women's basketball, with baseball as the south championship runner-up. Winning national recognition included men's tennis, women's tennis, and golf. Dr. Cleon McKnight, Men's and Women's Tennis Coach, was named Region XXIII and State Coach of the Year. Hinds also received the David M. Halbrook Award which is given to the college with the highest number of athletes completing their respective field of study.

In summary, we reaffirm our commitment to quality education for all high school graduates and adults. We propose to continue to work with our colleges and universities to facilitate the transfer of students and credits. We reaffirm our commitment to the "open door" of educational opportunity.

We certainly hope that you will find the year just as exciting and rewarding as we feel it will be. Your learning resources are here: faculty, staff, facilities and opportunities. They are yours for the asking.

David Cahow memorial scholarship established

Friends and family of the late David "Duce" Kent Cahow, II, have established the David Cahow II Memorial Scholarship to Hinds Community College in his memory.

The son of David and Teri Cahow, of Madison, David was a pre-medical student entering his sophomore year at Hinds at the time of his death.

The scholarship has been established through the Hinds Community College Development Foundation and will be awarded at the beginning of the spring semester of the recipient's sophomore year. It will be awarded to a student majoring in pre-med with the intention of attending medical school.

A student applying for this scholarship must be a Mississippian and a full-time student, have a 3.5 grade point average from previous semesters, and must submit to the Hinds Community College Development Office the following: a transcript, a list of achievements, three letters of recommendation, and a summary of why he or she should be considered for this scholarship. The file must be complete and in the Development Office by the week following final exams of the fall semester.

Before moving to Madison, in 1983, David and his parents lived in Wichita, Kansas; Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; Roanoke, Virginia; and Cincinnati, Ohio.

He attended Rosa Scott School, where he was a member of Project Advise, a program for gifted children; and participated in band and drama activities.

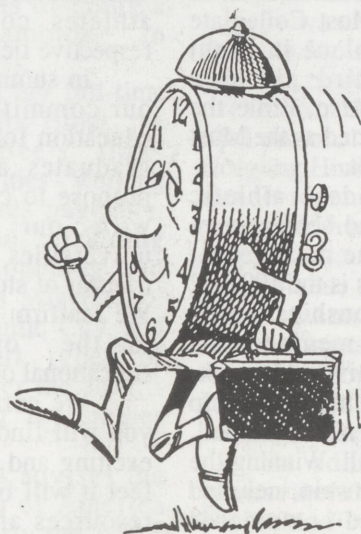

During his freshman and sophomore years at Madison-Ridgeland High School, David was a member of the band; and as a junior and senior there, he played varsity football and tennis. He served on his class's homecoming float committee all through high school, and was a president of the Chess Club. He graduated in 1991 with honors.

Prior to attending Hinds Community College, where he was an honor student, he studied pre-medicine for one semester at Missouri Southern College, in Joplin, Missouri, where he maintained a 3.6 grade point average.

He was employed by Puckett Lab at River Oaks Hospital, in Jackson, as a medical laboratory assistant; and was active in youth activities as a member of St. Phillip's Episcopal Church.

The District Scholarship Committee, as appointed by the President of the College, will select the recipient. For more information about the David Cahow II Memorial Scholarship, contact Jackie Granberry, director of Development for Hinds Community College, at 857-3363.

Fashion students visit McRae's Operations Center at Metro

On Wednesday, September 16, the Fashion Buying students in the Fashion Merchandising Technology program on the Raymond Campus visited Mary Poindexter, Hosiery Buyer for McRae's Department Stores, Inc. at the McRae's Executive Plaza and Operations Center.

The visit began with Ms. Poindexter introducing the students to her Divisional Merchandise Manager, Joe Sherman. Mr. Sherman welcomed the group and told them about his division of the store.

Ms. Poindexter then took the students to her office, which is a true center of activity. She "walked" them through the buying process of planning, purchasing, and selling a Dearfoam bootie. She pulled the departmental budget, the purchase order, the markdown request, the ad request and then the most current sales for that item.

At that point, the students went through the receiving, marking and distribution area to see firsthand the process merchandise goes through in order to finally appear on the sales floor of one of the McRae's stores. Students learned the procedures used for everything from unloading trucks to sorting and recycling hangers for fashion goods.

The Hinds students then went through the in-house advertising department and met a copywriter, an illustrator, and a layout artist. It was very evident throughout the visit what impact computers have on retailing – especially the MacIntosh computers using Quark software in the ad department!

From there they toured the MIS department to see how information from purchase orders and markdown and markdown cancellation requests are entered into the book inventory for each department. They learned that the people in this department are very special to the buyers, because paperwork errors can be devastating to operational results.

Ms. Poindexter presented each student and the instructor with a tote bag full of goodies and challenged each student to do his/her best at whatever they happen to be involved in at the time. Ms. Poindexter's advice to the students was, "No matter what you are involved in doing, even if it is sitting in class taking notes, take the very best notes you can. Always do your very best at whatever you do . . . that is the key to success."

Jerry Roberts, Fashion Merchandising instructor, commented "this was the most comprehensive field trip her students have ever had the opportunity to take. Probably one of the reasons for this is the personal interest Ms. Poindexter has in the Fashion Merchandising Technology program – she is a graduate of the Marketing Management Technology program and has served for several years, including this school year, on the Advisory Committee for Marketing Management and Fashion Merchandising Technologies."

Any student who may be interested in a Fashion or Marketing major is encouraged to talk with Jerry Roberts, Kyle Mize, or Susan Kendrick in Walter Gibbs Hall. Any of them will be glad to tell you about this exciting career area.

Hinds enrollment climbs

Overall enrollment has reached 13,021 in the Hinds Community College District for the fall semester, a definite "milestone" for the institution, according to Dr. Clyde Muse, College president, who said that the College has never gone over the 13,000 mark before now.

District numbers show an 8.4 percent or 1,013-student increase over the 1991 figure of 12,008, Dr. Muse told employees attending the College Council meeting on September 14.

Dr. Muse pointed out that the College has "turned a corner" in the technical student category, which he claimed "had been seeing a consistent decline" in previous years. Technical enrollment has risen from 2,194 in 1991, to 2,308 this year. The figure shows a 5.2 percent jump.

In contrast, academic enrollment has shown only a 1.1 percent or 70-student increase, with 6,312 currently attending classes. This compares to a 6,242 count in 1991.

Also, vocational enrollment is down across the District by 6.4 percent or 50 students. In 1991, 786 were taking vocational classes, while 736 are now enrolled.

When looking at individual campus statistics, Utica shows the largest overall rise of 243 students or 19.8 percent. This semester, there are 1,472 attending this campus, while in 1991, statistics listed 1,229 at this site. Rankin boasts an increase of 293 students, a 14.6 percent expansion, while the Nursing/Allied Health Center follows with a 10.8 percent increase.

Due to the discontinuation of night classes at the Universities Center, this location has seen its percentage drop 62.2 overall. In 1991, 119 students were enrolled, with 1992 figures showing only 45 in attendance.

Division categories explain that the Academic/Technical Center has the highest academic percentage increase of 28 or 71 students, while the Nursing/Allied Health Center is up 22.4 percent or 35 students.

In the technical division, Rankin saw a dramatic 64.6 percent jump. A total of 135 students are enrolled this semester, a 53 student increase over the 1991 figure of 82.

Technical, vocational, and academic enrollments have decreased at Raymond, with this campus listing a 5.5 percent increase overall. The Vicksburg/Warren County Branch is up in academics by 2.5 percent, while showing a reduction in the vocational area of 15.6 percent and keeping a steady pace in the technical category.

Presidential election November 3

Many Hinds students will have their first opportunity to vote in a presidential election on November 3 when the American people will make a choice between President George Bush, Arkansas Governor Bill Clinton, or Texas businessman Ross Perot.

Not only will you be voting for president but the people of Mississippi will be voting for legislative seats, Supreme Court Justices, and for congressional seats as well.

There will also be several other names on the ballot for President. These include the Libertarian Party's Andre Marrou, Mississippi Taxpayers Party's Howard Phillips, and independents Lenora Fulani, Bo Gritz and John Hagelin.

In addition to all the candidates on the ballot this election Mississippians will have eight amendments to vote on with the lottery amendment being the most known. This vote does not decide if Mississippi will have a lottery or not but it will decide if the people give the legislature power to make that choice.

Persons voting for the first time should view a sample ballot before going to the polls, it might save the voter a lot of time on November 3 and especially the person who is next.

"Favorite" elections to select Mr. and Miss Hinds

Class Favorite elections are scheduled for November 16 from 10 AM until 2 PM and the sophomore male and female students with the most votes will be named Mr. & Miss Hinds Community College.

A total of 24 will be selected, which include the top two, and there will be seven sophomore men and women and five freshmen men and women.

Applications are available in the Student Activities Office located in Denton Gym on the Raymond Campus. There will be a candidate meeting on November 4th at 3:00 PM in the Student Activities Office.

Those selected will be featured in the 1993 Hinds yearbook, The Eagle.

Entry forms for the pageant are available in the Public Relations Office in the Student Union Building or from Mrs. Anna Bee in the Women's Gym. The forms must be returned by November 27 to the Public Relations Office.

Contestants who enter the pageant must make all rehearsals prior to the night of competition. Any Hinds coed who attends classes on the Raymond, Jackson or Rankin Campus may enter the pageant.

Pageant contestants will be judged on Beauty only and the top five selected will be featured in the 1993 yearbook, The Eagle. The pageant, which is sponsored by the yearbook staff, is directed by Hi-Stepper director Mrs. Anna Bee. Staging and lighting will be done by the Circle K Club.

Resolution 512

Lottery

On November 3rd, the people of Mississippi will be voting on changing eight constitutional amendments in the Mississippi State Constitution.

One of the amendments that has caught the most attention from the public, is whether to delete section 98 of Resolution 512, or leave it as is. The resolution deals with lotteries being allowed in the state. Most people probably believe that they will be voting on whether or not to allow lotteries. This is not true at all.

What we will be voting on, is whether or not to give the legislature the power to determine if the people of Mississippi should or should not have a lottery.

One of the biggest arguments against the lottery is that the poor people of our state would spend their money on lottery tickets, instead of food. Let's wise up. If people are going to gamble they're going to gamble. It might be backroom poker, alley dice, parlor room bingo, or a trip across the river to support the lottery in our neighbor state of Louisiana.

It would be interesting to know how many millions of Mississippi dollars have been spent on the Louisiana lottery. Why not spend those dollars in this needful state of ours. A recent Sunday edition of the New Orleans Times Picayune stated that in the first year of operation in Louisiana, the Lottery Commission gave the State Treasury of Louisiana $115 million dollars. It was not required to give them anything during the first fiscal year, but why not, the lottery made $475 million dollars. How much of that $475 million do you think came from Mississippians? Think of the benefits that Mississippi could have with that kind of money.

After all, business and corporations are not exactly knocking down the door to open in our state. So, why not try something new? It has been proven that the lottery works in other states, why not our own? Do you prefer to maintain our number one ranking, that is being last in everything. Maybe that is Mississippi's claim to fame.

Whatever your opinion is about the lottery, go vote. There is a lot at stake in this election, not just for Mississippi, but also for our country.

Decisions, decisions !!!

Entertainment Review

Batman fans, watch out. There is a new, yet old bat in town, and he is out for blood. His name is Dracula, and he is going to suck the life right out of you. This 19th century tale by Bran Stoker, is one of evil and love. It shows how the evil of one man can be destructive, and the love of another can be all it takes to defeat him.

In the movie, Johnathan Harker, a realtor selling Count Dracula an estate in Vienna, must get his wife, Mina Harker, out of the clutches that Dracula has put her in. Johnathan and his companions Dr. Seward, an out of town psychologist, and Van Helsing, a doctor, must find a cure for Mina. They find that the only way to cure her is to visit the grave of a dead friend who was killed earlier in the storm by Dracula so that he would have a body to possess at night. By having a body to possess, he is able to perform his ghoulish acts without being seen.

Once they visit the yard, they find them-selves with no luck in getting the lock off Mina's grave; therefore they have to keep coming to the graveyard at night so that they can catch Dracula in action. When they finally open the grave they find no corpse inside, so they keep trying. When they finally catch Dracula they - well read it yourself and find out what happens. I promise it will be worth your time. Also the movie Dracula will be hitting the theaters soon, so if you don't like to read, then go see it.

Reading Program aids in study skills

By Brian Jantz

Its title is EDU, and it is referred to as the Master Study course. Its goal is to help students with difficult problems in their courses and to make better grades. The program is directed by Martha Ollar, and it's Hinds' Reading and Study improvement.

While taking this course the student will cover units on time management, test taking skills, note taking, listening, study reading methods, memory development, and goal setting. By taking this course, people are able to bring their near failing grades up to A's and B's.

Lavoslon Walker, a transfer from another college was having trouble with her grades until she found out about the program offered here at Hinds. Walker said, "The course helped me improve my study and reading skills. It has helped many students, and it is possible for many more people to achieve better study and reading habits."

The course is open to all who wish to take it, but people with a grade of 15 or below on the ACT, get first priority because of a limit of only 18 students per class. The hours transfer as three hours on your transcript. If you are interested in signing up for this course next semester, and want to find out more about it, call Martha Ollar at 857-3463.

Student Senate submits ideas

By Michael McMillan

The 1992 Fall session of the Student Senate is officially underway and several ideas have already been submitted to the senate for consideration.

One, which will affect housing students, is a requirement to raise the minimum G.P.A. required to stay in a dorm to 2.0. It is sponsored by Daniel Ware and will most likely be voted on in late October or early November. The Entertainment committee, with Bob Sullender chairman, is considering the possibility of having a school-wide formal to be held in late November.

Hinds Eagles upset ECCC Homecoming

During Homecoming activities at East Central Community College the Hinds Community College Eagles upset the Warriors of East Central with a 16-0 win.

The South Division win moves Hinds to a 2-2 record in the division and 4-2 overall while East Central moves to 0-3 in division play and 1-5 overall.

The Eagles' first score came with 5:16 to play in the second period when Kicker Chris Pierce of Florence made a 37-yard field goal. A short time later with 1:03 remaining on the clock Hinds' Stacey Garrett of Roanoke, Alabama made a 14-yard run for the touchdown with Pierce making the point after.

During the third period the Eagles started a drive after David Knott of Brandon intercepted the ball from the Warriors, but eight plays later and as close as the 1-yard line, the East Central defense held the Eagles.

With only a few seconds off the clock in the fourth period Hinds' Pierce attempted a 49-yard field goal but the ball hit the goal post and bounced off.

The Eagles last TD came with 8:37 to play in the game when East Central quarterback Todd Vowell fumbled the ball and Hinds linebacker Damon Stevens of Puckett recovered and made a 50-yard dash for the touchdown. The extra point attempt by Pierce for the Eagles was blocked.

As the last couple of minutes ticked off the clock East Central fumbled the ball with Hinds' Scott Stacey of Prattville, Alabama recovering and as Hinds moved the ball down field Dexter Thomas of Jackson fumbled on the 12-yard line with the Warriors Keith Dailey recovering. With 37 seconds remaining in the game the Warriors made their last attempts to score but the Eagle defense held them back and the Eagles wrapped up their fourth win of the season.

GARRETT CARRIES - Stacey Garrett, running back for the Hinds Community College Eagles, from Roanoke, Alabama gains ground for the Eagles during the Hinds vs. East Central Community College game. Hinds defeated the Warriors 16-0 and moved to a 4-2 overall record and a 2-2 in the South Division. Garrett is the leading scorer for the Eagles with five touchdowns and is leading in rushing with a total of 352 yards on 61 carries for a 5.7 average. He also leads in kickoff returns with 8 returns for 196 yards averaging 24.5.

Wolves attacked by Eagle defense

The Wolves of Co-Lin rallied with their 17-14 lead over the Eagles of Hinds Community College in the fourth period but the joy only lasted about a minute and a half before the Eagles bounced back to take and retain the lead and knockoff the Wolves with a 35-17 final score.

It was a sweet victory for Hinds coach Gene Murphy on the night of his 38th birthday, and moved Hinds to a 3-2 overall record and 1-2 in the South Division. Co-Lin moved to 2-3 overall and 1-2 in division play.

With the first period being scoreless and the second almost the same, the Eagles put a touchdown on the board with 1:20 to play in the first half when quarterback Marcus Riddley connected with Carlos Lindsey on a 32-yard pass play. Chris Pierce added the PAT and the Eagles led 7-0 at the half.

With hardly two minutes off the clock in the third period, Co-Lin's Reagan Gregory made a 49-yard touchdown run for the Wolves. The extra point attempt by Andrew Caladrello was no good.

The Eagles were soon to add another TD to the board after William Ford intercepted the ball on the Wolves 23-yard line and Stacey Garrett and Kentress Hampton moved the ball down field to the 5-yard line. On the next play Riddley passed to Dwayne Mangum for the score and Chris Pierce added the extra point giving Hinds a 14-6 lead.

With 40 seconds remaining in the third period Co-Lin's Caladrello attempted a 37-yard field goal but the kick was no good.

Early in the fourth quarter a Riddley pitchout bounced off Dexter Thomas and right into the arms of Co-Lin's Roy Rigsby who carried for a 52-yard touchdown Tyrus White carried on the 2 point conversion and the Wolves were tied with the Eagles at 14-14.

With 11:55 remaining on the clock the Wolves took a 17-14 lead with a 32-yard field goal by Andrew Caladrello.

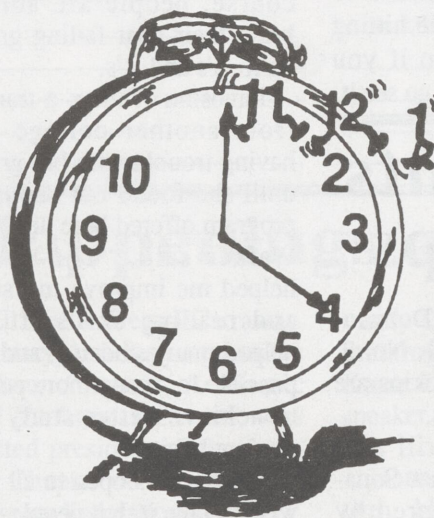

Celebrating was short for Co-Lin as Hinds' Garrett and Hampton moved the ball to the 1-yard line with Riddley carrying for the TD and Pierce making the point after and Hinds again claiming the lead at 21-17.

Hinds last two touchdowns came on a 45-yard carry by Stacey Garrett with 8:34 remaining and 4-yard carry by Melvin Mangum with 1:04 to play in the game. Chris Pierce added the extra points and the Hinds Eagles took their third win of the season.

Hinds had 261 yards rushing to Co-Lin's 145 and Hinds had 92 yards passing while Co-Lin had 117.

Rangers gallop over Eagles

The nationally ranked number one Northwest Community College Rangers maintained their perfect record as they increased it to 7-0 with their 40-7 defeat of the Hinds Community College Eagles.

The Eagles had problems from the start when Dexter Thomas fumbled the ball and the Rangers' Fred Thomas recovered on the Hinds 34.

With only two minutes off the clock Northwest made their first of six touchdowns when Russell Evans passed 28-yards to Roell Preston. However, the Rangers' extra point attempt by Lonny Calicchio was blocked.

With only 51 seconds remaining in the first quarter Hinds quarterback Marcus Riddley passed 41-yards to Carlos Lindsey to the Eagles to the Northwest 13. The Rangers got a penalty and the Eagles moved to the 5.

Diving over the center, Riddley scored on the next play for the Eagles and Chris Pierce kicked the point after giving Hinds a 7-6 lead over Northwest.

The celebrating was short as the Rangers came back with 14:09 on the clock and scored with Russell Evans passing 12-yards to Freddie Douglas. Calicchio made the point after and the Rangers regained the lead 13-6.

About midway through the second period Hinds' Chris Pierce attempted a 42-yard field goal but the ball was wide left.

The Rangers wasted little time before Rontae Bass scored from a yard out and Calicchio again made the point after giving the Rangers a 20-7 lead. With only 16 seconds remaining until the half, the Rangers' Eric Smith scored on a 7-yard pass from Russell Evans. The extra point attempt was blocked and Northwest led 26-7 at the half.

With the second half underway the Rangers wasted little time putting another TD on the board when Rontae Bass scored from 3 yards out and Calicchio added the point after and increased their lead 33-7.

As the score increased, even the scoreboard could not keep up with the numbers. The Rangers added their last touchdown of the game with 2:22 to go in the third period when Lavelle Danzy made a 9-yard run and Calicchio added the point after and the Rangers put away their seventh win of the year.

Gulf Coast Bulldogs shutout by Hinds

Putting away their fifth win of the season, the Hinds Community College Eagles took a 15-0 win over the Bulldogs of Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Marking the 53rd meeting of the two teams Hinds moves to a 5-3 overall record and a 3-2 in the South Division while the Bulldogs move to 4-4 overall and 3-2 in division play. Gulf Coast leads the series wins of 30-22-1 over Hinds and dominated the period from 1962 until 1987 when Gene Murphy became head coach at Hinds. During this period Hinds only won twice over the Bulldogs but their 1992 win gives Murphy six straight over Gulf Coast.

It was second period before the scoreboard lit up with only five minutes off the clock and it took Hinds' kicker Chris Pierce of Florence to do so with a 23-yard field goal. With 17 seconds remaining before the half Pierce again scored for the Eagles with a 35-yard field goal giving the Eagles a 6-0 lead.

The only touchdown of the game came with 1:03 remaining in the third period when Alfred Wilson of Jackson made a flying dive over the pile to score for Hinds. Hinds went for the 2-point conversion but the attempt failed and Hinds led 12-0.

As the fourth period ticked off the clock Hinds' Pierce attempted a 41-yard field goal but the attempt failed with 11:45 remaining in the game. Approximately seven minutes later Pierce added insurance to the board with a 44-yard field goal putting the Eagles ahead 15-0 with 5:08 to play.

Gulf Coast helped the Eagles with their win as the Bulldogs fumbled three times and threw four interceptions.

Hinds head coach Gene Murphy credited his defense with "playing inspired ball. This was our biggest win of the year, the first time we've held on for four quarters."

With only two regular season games left to play, the Eagles hit the road next week.

Basketball season opens November 2

Hinds Community College opens the 1992 basketball season on the road as they face the Bulldogs and Lady Bulldogs of Holmes Community College at Goodman, on Monday, November 2.

The first home game at Utica will be on Thursday, November 5, when Hinds will host the Tigers and Lady Tigers of Northeast. The women's games start at 6 PM and the men's games start at 7 PM. Games will be played in Boyd Gym on the Utica Campus.

The Lady Bulldogs of Hinds, who finished the 1991 season with a 17-9 record and were number two in the state, will face the State Champion Lady Bulldogs of Holmes who were 27-0 last season.

The Hinds Lady Bulldogs has only one returning sophomore this year, Karen Alexander of Rayville, LA, who averaged 12 points a game and 9 rebounds.

Hinds women's coach Lester Owens said, "The forwards are going to be the strength of our team this season and we will have a lot of skilled players but not experience in playing community college basketball."

The men's team at Hinds, coached by Joe Nelson finished the 1991 season with a 3-19 record. Nelson remarked, "this year we are planning on going from worse to first."

The Hinds Bulldogs have three returning sophomores this season but Nelson feels that some of his new talent coming in will provide the team with more depth of natural talent, people who have been playing the game.

Legal Club has pizza and panel

The Raymond Campus Legal Club had a "Pizza and Panel" on Wednesday, October 7. Using funds raised at the football concession stand, the club bought pizza, salad, and cake for the members present. Guests were invited and special guest was Dr. Mary Etta Naftel, Department Chairman.

The Panel was composed of former Hinds Paralegal Students. Celeste Medders, Jan Thomas, Ada Chambers and Pam Wardlaw were asked to share their work experience with the club members. They discussed their different jobs, the way classroom learning transferred to the job and the fact that they 'love' their work. They were very positive and encouraging to the club members.

Students from the Paralegal Technology Program and the Criminal Justice Program recently served a mock media to "interview" students from the Rankin Police Academy. The Academy trains law enforcement officers for the Mississippi Highway Patrol and local police departments state-wide.

Students are required to present as "mock" news release on a recent event/activity which is of interest to the public and then entertain questions from the media. These Academy students have been in law enforcement for numerous years but are now training in the professional way to Meet the Media.

"These HCC students did a professional job and represented the college in a typical role playing situation and asked difficult questions. The officers were instructed that they would not pass the course if they said, 'No comment' ... so they had to provide some answer, even if it did not include substantive information" stated instructor Susan Wilbanks. (Cont. on page 7)

Hinds students named to Who's Who

The 1993 edition of WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN JUNIOR AND COMMUNITY COLLEGES will include the names of 99 students from Hinds Community College who have been selected as national outstanding campus leaders.

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory have included the names of these students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success.

Time capsule buried by PTK

Being the 75th Anniversary of Hinds Community College, and also the 75th Anniversary of the Phi Theta Kappa at Hinds, the organization wanted to take part in the celebration in a different way.

PTK, along with their sponsors, came up with the idea of a time capsule. The goal of the capsule would be to open it in 25 years from 1992 to note the changes at Hinds. The capsule was placed in a steel-like container.

Inside the capsule were materials and articles from 1917 to the present. Some of these included college T-shirts, a coin set from 1992, logos from the past 75 years, video tapes, and pictures of the college.

Also included were newspaper clippings of highlights from both olympics, the presidential election, the League Championship Series, and the World Series.

The time capsule was buried October 23 in the courtyard between the Administration Building and Harris Patrick Hall.

The organizations that gathered the material for the capsule were: Phi Theta Kappa, Hinds connection, Associated Student Government and the Hinds Development Foundation. It was noted by the spectators that it would be 2017 before the materials would be publicly viewed again.

Christmas

It is that time again. It is time to flock the stores, and check all the magazines from cover to cover, so you can decide on what you want for Christmas. Once you have decided, go fill out your list and check it twice. Then ask yourself, is what you want for Christmas something you really need. After you ask yourself this question, think about those who need, but can't even afford to make out a list.

Christmas has become more a business holiday, rather than a joyous occasion. When people think of St. Nick, they think of a man who brings toys to good boys and girls. That is not what St. Nick was meant to be thought of. St. Nick was supposed to be a model for the people of the world, so that they could feel the joy brought by the holiday season and the reasons for having it.

Christmas is a holiday, in which great things happen. It brings people that would normally go in separate ways, closer together. It brings one closer to his or her maker, and it helps us appreciate the little things in life that we usually take for granted.

So why take the meaning of christmas and turn it around? Try it like it was meant to be; therefore, make peace among each other; but while you are doing this think about those people who are starving and homeless. Then stop and put them into your prayers as you cut into that big turkey or ham you will have sitting on your table on Christmas day.

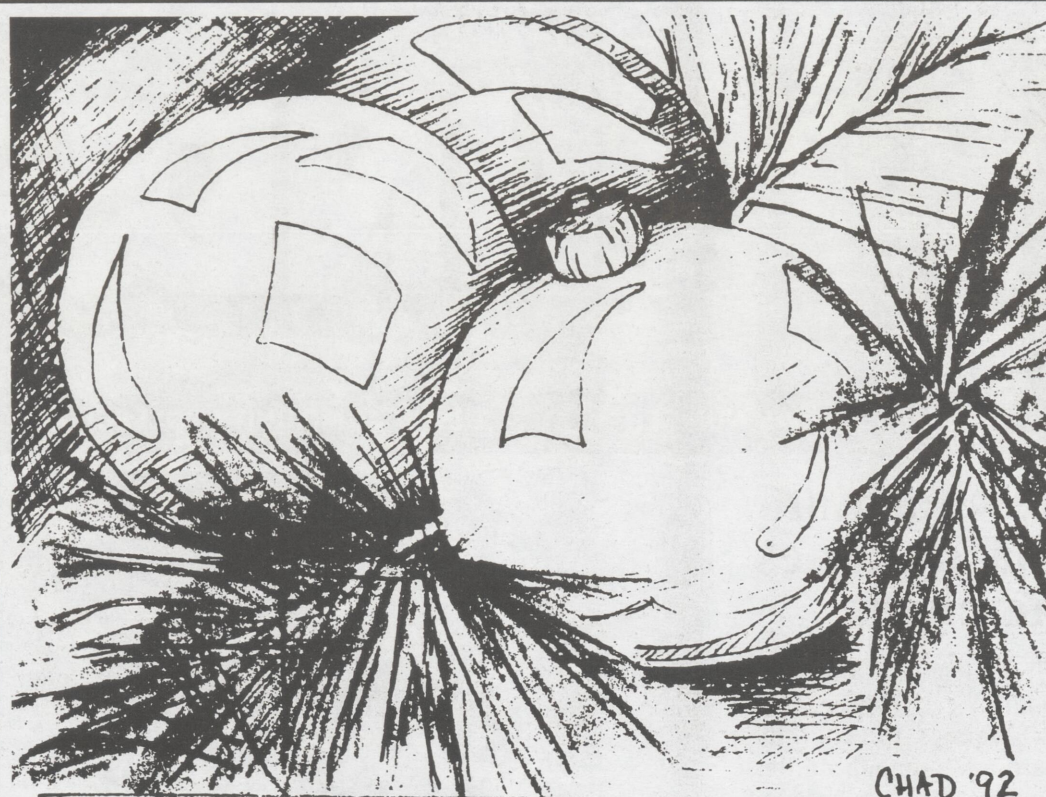

Skin care session

The Hinds Community College Rankin Marketing Co-op DECA Chapter recently held a skin care and beauty makeover session.

evening out and color coordination. The workshop was conducted by Mrs. Cindy Taylor, Image Consultant for Mary Kay Cosmetics and the mother of chapter president, Melissa Taylor.

The workshop proved to be helpful as well lots of fun for the marketing co-op DECA members! The end result was a classroom full of beautiful, glowing young ladies.

Raymond PTK host 75 Drive

The Raymond chapter of Phi Theta Kappa is ending the first semester of its 75th anniversary with a bang. The chapter started its celebration with the burying of the time capsule on the 23rd of October, with the intentions of not digging it up for 25 years. The reason for their way of thinking, is to see the changes that take place during that time. Well they are making sure change takes place during that time with their 75 Drive. The 75 Drive was set up to help those that are less fortunate than we, by distributing 75 items of different necessities during the holiday season. The drive started off with the distribution of blankets, now it is working on a coat drive, food drive, soup drive for the stew pot and also personal items for Whitfield residents.

The people heading up the 75 Drive are Gene Sebrén, John Burham, and Erian LeMasters. So, if you would like to help these who need your help, then contact Cliff Nelson at 857-3395.

Congratulations to the Hinds Community College Eagle football team for finishing the regular season with a 7-3 record and placing second in the South Division Championship. We regret that our football team lost to Northwest for a second time this year in the playoffs. However, the Eagles overcame many adversities and represented our college well. Also, I would like to express appreciation to the Band, Hi-steppers, Cheerleaders, and Ernie the Eagle for their outstanding performances throughout the football season.

As the basketball season begins, we look forward to another successful year for our women's and men's basketball teams. Most of these games will be played on the Utica Campus, and I encourage all locations to support our basketball teams.

The Hinds Community College Athletic Program received numerous awards this past year including:

- 1) Men and Women's Tennis and Track State and Region XXIII Championships;
- 2) Runner-up to State Champs in Women's Basketball, Golf, and Softball;
- 3) South Division Championship in Football and Women's Basketball; and
- 4) Runner-up to the South Division Champs in Baseball and Women's Basketball.

The Men's and Women's Tennis and Golf teams participated in the NJCAA National Tournaments, and the Eagle Football team participated in the Texas Shrine Bowl. The football Cheerleaders and Ernie the Eagle received several awards at the Universal Cheerleaders Association College Spirit Camp at Middle Tennessee State University.

This Christmas brings an end to this season's performance of these groups as well as your performances for the first semester of 1992-93. The semester is memory now—happy for some, frustrating for others. It would be wonderful if we could maintain, throughout the semester, the enthusiasm with which we began.

Semester exams are a measure of how well you have learned the materials covered in the semester. The time of reckoning is now, but with daily preparation you have provided yourself the skills and information needed. If you have not arranged and paced your schedule for daily preparation and study this semester, try to improve during the spring.

Now most of you are preparing to return to your homes for the brief vacation between semesters. Work will occupy some, travel may be in your plans, and time with family and friends will help make future memories. Christmas has a special and different meaning to each of us. Whatever your plans, have a safe and happy holiday. Bring a renewed excitement to begin the second semester. If your plans do not include returning to Hinds, we wish for you great success in your chosen endeavors.

Whether your plans include continuing your education or entering the work force after leaving Hinds, I would encourage you to complete the requirements for an associate degree. Studies indicate that individuals with an associate degree have a distinct advantage over their most frequent competitors, high school graduates, for most entry level positions. Income, opportunities to obtain further education, increased employment opportunities, and job security are a few of the benefits to the associate degree graduate.

Vashti and I would like to take this opportunity to invite you to attend the President's Christmas Open House to be held in the Women's Gym on the Raymond Campus on Tuesday, December 15, from 5 p.m. until 8 p.m.

HCC BUILDS ENGINE - Franklin Smith, left, of Sledge; and Conway Beham, right, of South Jackson, students in the Hinds Community College Raymond Campus welding department, show State Agriculture Commissioner Jim Buck Ross their progress with a project they undertook recently for the Mississippi Agriculture Museum. Earlier, Ross had contacted Hinds to have a small train engine designed and built for use at the Mississippi Agriculture Museum. Beham, working from a sketch, designed the body which will cover a small tractor to pull "train cars" for a children's ride on the museum grounds. Beham and Smith led in constructing the engine from materials supplied by the museum, according to welding program instructor, Glenn Kemp.

Hinds awarded $800,000 grant

Grant funds totalling $800,000 have been awarded to Hinds Community College for the establishment of "Pull-Up," a four-year project introducing poverty-level households to vocational training in the Hinds District.

Funded by a $500,000 Kellogg Foundation grant and $300,000 in matching funds from the Mississippi Department of Health and Human Services, "Pull-Up" is designed to bring families up from poverty through the availability of education and training programs.

"Pull-Up" is a project of the Mississippi Community/Junior College Economic Development Foundation, and according to Dr. Clyde Muse, Foundation chairman, "This program will have a positive impact on entire communities because it will bring together diverse groups to produce major economic and social change."

A minimum of 50 middle-income volunteers from business and industry will personally contact low income families, asking them to become involved in the training. Seminars will then be conducted to make these families aware of the education and training available and to show them how they can break the poverty cycle by learning a specific skill.

Participants will then be given the opportunity to enroll in the training and to identify which training will be suitable for them. Volunteers will serve, throughout the project, as mentors for the trainees as they work to finish the training and as they began their job search.

Dr. Muse said, "The project will radically change the way people in central Mississippi view each other, and it will provide a vehicle for solving some serious economic and social problems."

"A spirit of human concern among those involved will be essential for the success of the program, and we are thankful for the excellent cooperation between the college and the Department of Health and Human Services. Also, the volunteers are a crucial part of this because they will be the bridge to education for these families."

Approximately 200 families are expected to enroll, and recruitment of these families for the project will begin immediately.

Research done by Hinds has resulted in the development of this project, and the Economic Development Foundation assists in analyzing and solving education and social problems in the state.

Students tour Jackson area

The Marketing and Fashion Merchandising classes of the Vicksburg Branch toured the Levi Strauss Distribution Center in Canton, MS.

At Levi Strauss the students were shown how merchandise is received, stocked, processed and distributed to retail stores throughout the country.

The students then traveled to the Metro Center to evaluate stores, displays and sales persons. There were over 100 students who participated in this informative field trip.

Entertainment Review

by Jason Unsworth

Sex, the controversial new diary/family photo album by Madonna, is her newest ploy to shock the moral masses of the world.

The book has sold tens of thousands of copies, despite having only been on sale for a month. The fact that it is only available in a $50 metal-bound edition doesn't seem to bother consumers, however, as this is proving to increase curiosity and sales alike. Sex is written in journal form, adding an interesting twist and a twisting plot to what is at first glance just another glorified hardcore pulp to be left in some teenager's footlocker.

After a more penetrating study the pages seem to disclose an unusual concept of artistic genius, as far as the broadest definition of art is concerned. The question after a quick thumb-through is: where does Madonna get those leather bikini-less straps and shiny spiked comesols?

Anyway, only the most liberal could call this book art, and the most conservative, trash, so get your own copy and decide for yourself.

Rankin students visit Marketplace

Marketing Co-op students at the Pearl/Rankin Vocational Center recently attended the Annual Mistletoe Marketplace at the Mississippi Trade Mart in Jackson.

The Mistletoe Marketplace brings to Jackson more than 100 merchants from across the United States for a shopping, entertaining, and special events extravaganza benefiting the Junior League of Jackson. The purpose of the marketing co-op field trip was for students to see first-hand the principles of entrepreneurship at work.

Students selected various businesses of interest to them and interviewed the owners to determine the following:

1) Business location

2) Number of years in business

3) Why the business participated in the Mistletoe Marketplace

4) How the business initially got started

5) The target market of the business

6) Primary items for sale and typical price range

7) How the business selects its merchandise and the channel of distribution used

8) And advice for perhaps opening their own businesses eventually.

The Mistletoe Marketplace is an annual field trip for the Rankin Marketing Co-op program. The Marketing Co-op instructor is Mrs. Dana Harrell.

Senate Notes

by Michael McMillan

Within the month the semester, as well as the year, will draw to a swift conclusion. The Associated Student Government has accomplished many different things this semester.

Homecoming and Class Favorite elections were conducted by A.S.G., while a campus-wide semi-formal social/dance, Alcohol Awareness week, and a Presidential Straw Poll, of which President George Bush was the winner, were all sponsored by your Student Government. Debate and discussion in senate meetings has included such topics as a 2.0 G.P.A. requirement for all dorm students, A.I.D.S. Awareness Day, a no smoking regulation for the dorms, and registration decal placement on automobiles bumpers.

The Student Government has and will continue to advance those issues it believes to be good and just, while trying to dismantle those it believes to be irresponsible and detrimental to the student body. It is our responsibility to you to do so.

For those leaving this semester thank you for your advice and support. May you always look to Him who created us all and grants us the life we enjoy. For those who remain the best is yet to come. Dieu Et Les Dames.

Lendon Players hold auditions for "Nunsense"

The Lendon Players plan on kicking off the 1993 season off with a performance of Nunsense. Auditions for the play are January 11 - 12, and all the performers are women.

Nunsense is a hilarious talent show staged by five survivors at the Little Sisters of Hoboken nunnery, the rest of the sisterhood having succumbed to botulism after eating vichyssoise prepared by Sister Julia, Child of God. The remaining "Little Hobos" parade their talents at a variety show staged to raise funds so that the last four of the dearly departed can be buried.

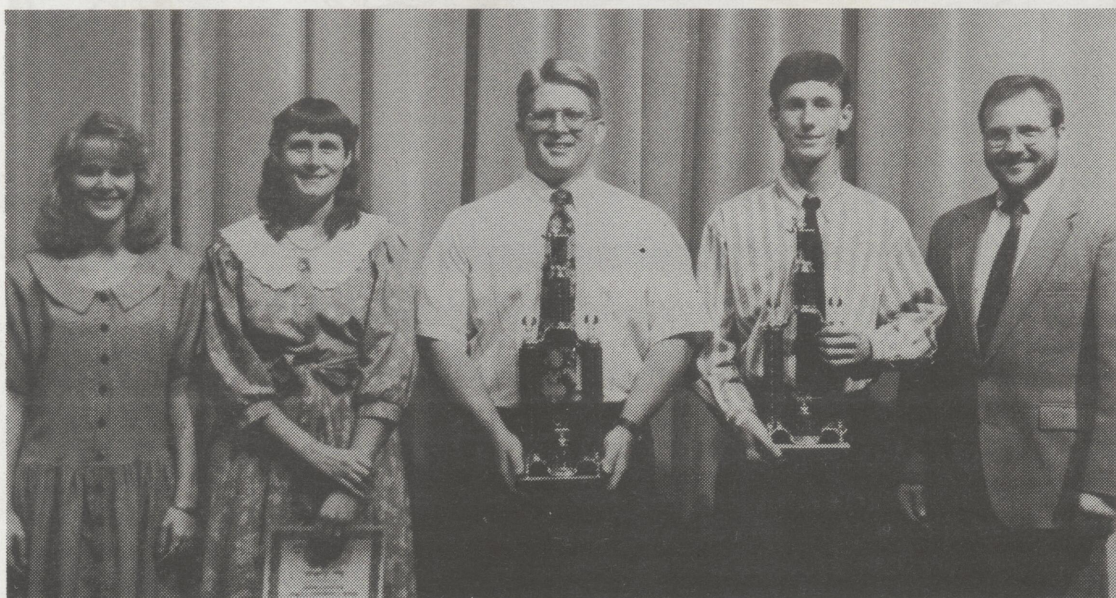

The score pulses with merriment and an unabashed desire to make you laugh, with song and spontaneous comic interludes paced at breakneck speed. Amid the merriment is a riotous audience participation quiz that has everyone rolling in the aisles. Nunsense offers a cornucopia of hilarity for the whole family, providing conclusively that nun rhymes with fun.

HINDS COMMUNITY COLLEGE, RAYMOND, MISSISSIPPI

February 11, 1993

SPEECH WINNERS - In the recent Hinds Community College Persuasive Speaking Contest were, from left, Melissa Mitchell, of Clinton, and Anne Berthold, of Terry, who were finalists; Rodrick Johns, of Ridgeland, who took first place; Chris Bossier, Southwest Jackson, second place; and Eric Stokley, of North Jackson, also a finalist. The HCC Persuasive Speaking Contest takes place semi-annually on the Raymond Campus, with winners from fall and spring semesters taking part in a state-wide competition in the spring.

Nunsense opens February 24

Have you ever wondered what it would be like to see a few nuns acting their wildest while still maintaining their God-fearing status? If you have, then you will definitely want to see Hinds Community College Lendon Player's performance of "Nunsense".

"Nunsense" is a play about nuns, five to be exact, that have to bury 52 other nuns in their convent who died because of food poisoning. The five nuns find themselves short of the cash necessary to bury all the other nuns, so with their faith in the Lord, they put on a talent show.

You may think that six nuns wouldn't have enough talent to entertain the Pope, but they prove that thought wrong by putting on a show that could knock your socks off with their absent-mindedness.

Sister Mary Regina, played by Cyndi Montgomery, is the mother superior who tries to convince everyone that she is strict, but with her new found love of the stage, she becomes obsessed everytime the spotlight is on her.

Sister Mary Hubert, played by Amy Lewis, is the sister of novices (beginners) who finds herself always competing with Sister Mary Regina, but she is not the only one who has difficulty with her Mother Superior.

Sister Robert Anne, played by Leslie Thompson, is always in conflict with Mother Superior because Anne is too aggressive. This leads to the one nun who is never in conflict with anyone because she can't even remember who she is.

The nun I'm talking about is Sister Mary "Amnesia." She is a nun who can't remember her name, and wakes up each morning in a different world because a crucifix fell on her head. She is played by Christine Irwin, and is sure to bring you laughs with her absent-minded singing and performing.

Another nun who will bring you a lot of laughs is Sister Mary Leo, played by Shreere Crosby. Sr. Leo thinks she is a ballerina, but with every effort she proves herself wrong.

The show is directed by Denise Halbach along with Robert Lee as Music Director, and David Hawkins as Tech Director. The dates for the performance are February 24-27 at 7:30 p.m. in Brooks Theatre.

For more information or ticket reservations, you may contact Hinds Community College's Speech and Theatre Department at 857-3266. Admission to the play is free with a Hinds I.D. or $3.00 for students from other schools and $5.00 for adults.

A panel of judges, approved by the Miss Mississippi Pageant, will select the top five contestants with the winner being crowned the 1993 Miss Hinds Community College. The winner will also represent the college in the Miss Mississippi Pageant in July in Vicksburg. The winner of the Miss Mississippi Pageant will represent the State of Mississippi in the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City, New Jersey.

Contestants will be judged on talent, interview, swimsuit, and evening gown competition. Each category will count differently in the decision making process.

Hinds president, Dr. Clyde Muse, will crown the winner of the pageant along with the 1992 pageant winner Melodi Griffith.

Commenting on the pageant Mrs. Bee said, "Hinds has long been noticed for its beauty pageants, being the first junior college in the state to send a contestant to the Miss Mississippi Pageant.

This year will mark the College's 34th consecutive year to participate in the Miss Mississippi Pageant.

Admission to the pageant will be $2.00 for Hinds students with their college I.D. and $3.00 for the general public.

No Burgers !

What has your choice of pickles, tomatoes, lettuce, onion, ketchup, mustard, mayonnaise, and can't be found on the Hinds Campus? What else but the hamburger!

Until lately, everyone had the opportunity to buy a hamburger for lunch. However, with the change of the old Hiney-Ho Cafe to the New Hiney-Ho and the opening of the new cafeteria, the hamburger is no longer available, unless it just happens to be the day the cafeteria is serving the American delicacy.

The hamburger can be found at the Eagle Ridge Clubhouse at the golf course, but most students don't have transportation over there to get one of "life's little pleasures", which happens to be darn big at the golf course.

The new cafeteria is great, and the new convenience of providing Pizza Hut pizza and Subway sandwiches, or your choice of a full meal, does offer a good choice for meals. But, Hinds students and faculty are being deprived of those all-beef patties that can be stuffed so full of your own choice of toppings that the patty seems to find its way out of the bun and onto your table OR lap.

In order to have one of those round little burgers one must now go off campus to one of the local establishments. The return of the burger to the campus would greatly be appreciated by students and faculty because most don't have time to drive to Jackson or Clinton or even to visit the local places in Raymond.

No matter how young or old you are, the hamburger is an American tradition lets hope it will once again become a Hinds tradition.

Entertainment Review

by Mitchell Moore

During a period when movies were just coming about, there was one man that knew what they should be like. He made Americans laugh when there was nothing left to laugh about because of Nazi Germany's rise.

The man that I am referring to is Charlie Chaplin, the star of the new movie, "Chaplin." This is a movie that describe his struggle in becoming a star, and in trying to make the world aware of Hitler's power over the world.

The movie starts out with Charlie Chaplin, Robert Downey Jr., struggling with his family in order to survive. Later, Chaplin commits his mother to a mental hospital; therefore, having to fend for himself in the period's economically deprived atmosphere. So, he decides to try to find his place in acting, and he success fully hooks up with an American acting company. But, because of his success he later finds himself in conflict with his director, and then decides to open his own movie company. While with his company, and his many wives, he directs movies that put down the Nazi effort to take over Germany. This causes an uproar among fellow Nazi supporters. Even though his friends and workers where for a war that would kill many people, Chaplin stuck to his belief on the Nazi invasions, and because of his belief he suffered a mental breakdown and the lose of his wife. Soon Chaplin's career deceases, and is not heard from for a long time.

The movie shows how easily we can be deceived to believe how great something is when it is only because we think we need a hero to save us from life, which at that time was Nazism. It is a must see movie for those who love history and drama, and I strongly recommend it to everyone.

The Raymond Student Senate has begun this semester in full swing!! Over 40 Senators have been elected to the Senate and the best possible committee chairmen have been selected to help the Senate in achieving every goal it is given.

By February 15 the Elections Committee, chaired by Carol Pierce, will place suggestion boxes around the campus for you to directly tell us what you think needs to be done. Please use these boxes and let us know what we can do for you. We won't let you down.

The Public Relations Committee, chaired by Brian Hebler, will be reviewing the possibilities of a monthly newsletter that will remind us of events, dances, meetings, and other social activities on or around campus.

Unfortunately, many students never tell their local government how they feel or what they want accomplished. Unless you tell us about problems you see around campus we will never know they are there.

If I can be of any help to you feel free to call me in the Student Government office at 857-3388.

Going to College is a Reeves "Family Affair"

The familiar adage "Like mother, like daughter" has taken on a new twist in the Raymond Campus English Department, where the phrase is now being repeated as "Like grandmother, like granddaughter."

Hinds student Doris Reeves, 66, and her granddaughter Carol Reeves, 19, are sharing more than the family name as they study together in English Composition.

The two claim it is "basically a coincidence" that they have ended up studying.

Carol said, "I had already registered for my classes when grandmother decided to take a class - it just happened to be the same class I had signed up for."

Each claims there have been no problems in sharing the academic climate of instructor Polly Marshall's composition class, even though Carol insists that her grandmother "explains things to me."

Carol said, "We come from a really close family and saw nothing wrong with signing up for the same course."

Doris has returned to the classroom after a 48-year hiatus from education, during which she worked at the University Medical Center and at the Mississippi State Department of Education.

She said, "I have been keeping a journal for over 40 years and have been anxious to know how to put it all together. Also, I have always had a special love for literature, writing, and especially poetry."

"I want to pass my journal on to my grandchildren," she continued.

Whereas Doris dropped out of a New York City high school as a senior to marry in 1942, Carol completed her senior year at Clinton High School in the spring of 1992.

Doris said, "You couldn't go to school back then if you were married, so I dropped out. However, I did pass the GED in 1987 - some 45 years later."

Carol, who is pursuing the first two years of a nursing degree at Hinds said the most common thread that runs between her grandmother and herself is their "compassion for others."

"I like to be around people and to do things for others, while grandmother is especially attached to children," Carol explained.

Currently, Carol spends much of her time helping others through her church activities at Pineview Baptist Church in Clinton, and Doris volunteers in a special education class at Carver Elementary School in Raymond.

While maintaining a respectable 2.6 grade point average, Carol also works part-time at College Cleaners in Clinton and is paying her own way through school. Doris attends Hinds through the senior citizens program which allows those 65 or older to attend classes tuition-free.

Both try to engage themselves in hobbies outside the classroom, and for Carol that means immersing herself in art.

She said, "I love to draw and hope that I can take some art classes in the future. I don't think it could be my career, but I enjoy it."

Doris said she will continue her work at the local elementary school, while also working with special children at her church. "I like to make regular visits to nursing homes, too, she said.

Carol's and Doris' kinship exists through Wesley Reeves, Jr., Carol's father and Doris' son. Wesley is an officer with the Clinton Police Department.

The ladies' Hinds connection also exists in that Carol's grandfather and Doris' husband, Wesley Reeves, Sr., taught criminal justice on the Raymond Campus for many years.

Doris said, "Carol and I have a good relationship. I've always been involved in my grand-children's lives. It keeps me young."

Since becoming a "young-at-heart" student, Doris said she continually repeats one of her favorite rhymes which was given to her by a friend.

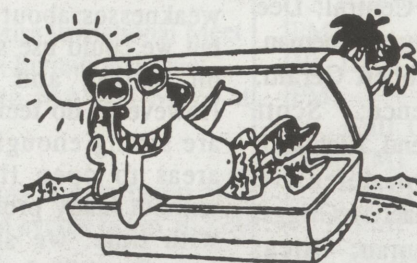

"Yesterday's grandma spent time in a chair; Rocking and rocking and going nowhere. Today a grandma is not to be found; She jumped off the porch and is now college-bound."

The pair acknowledge that they would welcome the chance to share class notes in the future if fate allows.

Finishing number two in the state last year, the Lady Eagles will have only three returning players on the squad this season. Hinds coach Deborah Nichols commented, "The 1993 Lady Eagles will open the season with many new faces but this isn't a situation the team can't handle. Eagles open with Itawamba

Just like apple pie and ice cream, it's time again for another one of America's favorite pastimes, baseball.

According to Hinds Community College baseball coach Rick Clarke his 1993 team should offer spectators an action packed season. With only six returning players Clarke is optimistic about the season.

"We have a sound defense and a strong pitching game. There are not any glaring weaknesses about this team but we could use some work on batting and catching. However, I do feel that we are strong enough in these areas to open the season without many problems and with time, we should get better," said Clarke.

The 1993 Hinds Eagles are all district players and are local players.

Clarke commented, "This team is just ready to play baseball and they should offer a lot of excitement to the game. We went to playoffs last year and we are ready to return to the playoffs this year."

The returning Eagle players include Philip Arrant, Chris Butts, Scot Hollingsworth, Patrick Nations, Lance Puckett and Stacey Wilcox. New additions to the Eagle roster for the 1993 baseball season include: Anthony Acy, Erik Bock, Chad Brunson, D.J. Clark, Tim Hunt, Darius McCoy, Doug Newman, Mark Olive, Tad Owens, Jason Parkman, Chris Pierce, Chad Richardson, Todd Richie, Brian Roundtree, Ken Smith, Trey Spurgeon, David Townsend, Jeff Waldrop, Grant Williams, David Worrell.

The Eagle baseball team will open their 22 home game series on February 26 when they host Itawamba at Raymond at 1:00 PM. Most home games are double-headers but a few single games are scheduled this season as well.

The 1992 Eagles finished the season with a 26-21 overall record and 16-8 in division play and finished second.

The men's team is 13-8 overall and 4-5 in South Division play and have two more division games before the division tournament.

Tennis at Hinds will open their 1993 season February 25 at Utica when they host Alcorn.

The 1992 men's and women's tennis teams at Hinds captured the State and Region 23 Championships. Dr. Cleon McKnight is head coach for both teams at Hinds and in the past several years his teams have dominated community college tennis in Mississippi.

The Hinds golf team won't see competition until March when their first tournament is set for Meridian.

Coach Polly Rabalais' squad finished the 1992 season with the number two ranking in the state and region 23.

Track at Hinds will have a new mentor as Coach Tony Gines takes over the helm.

The first track meet scheduled at Hinds is April 7 but the team will be participating in meets in March at Ole Miss and the University of Alabama.

Hinds baseball opens the 1993 season at home as they host Itawamba on February 26 at 1:00 PM. Coach Rick Clarke and his Eagle squad have a 45 game schedule this season with only six returning players.

Coach Deborah Nichols and her Lady Eagles are coming off a second place state win last season and will open at home also with Itawamba on March 9.

The Lady Eagles only have three returning players on their team this season and they foresee no problems as they go after a title this year.

Cultural diversity programs showcase Hinds heritages

Just as a puzzle has many pieces that fit together in a natural manner, so do the cultures and heritages that accentuate the student life of Hinds Community College.

The State of Mississippi has 16 unique but important cultures and heritages that influence the laws, policies and makeup of the state. The Arts and Lecture Series, in conjunction with the Afro-American Cultural Society, is pleased to announce "Putting Together the Pieces of the Puzzle".

To start the month, the Afro-American Cultural Society presented Mrs. Rosia Crisler who spoke on Black History, February 2nd. The Utica Campus presented Representative Tommie Green on February 4.

During the weeks of February 15-24, activities have been scheduled around campus that will highlight several of the different cultures at Hinds.

On Monday, February 22 in Cain Hall at 10:00 am, Senator Barbara Blackmon speaks on Black History Month and how it effects the college student.

Seatbelts save students

On October 23 shortly after 12 o'clock in the morning, the car Hinds student, Stanley Parker, was riding in while on the way home with a friend from Monroe, Louisiana to Clinton, plowed up under a slow moving 18-wheeler.

The accident occurred after the friend that Parker was riding home with, fell asleep at the wheel of Parker's car. His foot gunned the accelerator to about 100 mph. and drove the car under the 18-wheeler, which was going about 25 mph on the Mississippi River Bridge in Vicksburg.

According to Parker, "The 18-wheeler, carried us 2000 feet over the bridge, before he realized he had a problem and pulled over."

Both men were wearing their seatbelts, but Parker says, "It was only because it was my mother's car, and it had the kind of seatbelts that come up on you automatically."

If it hadn't been for that, he says they probably wouldn't have bothered with it.

At first Parker walked in with only a few bruises, and then he started to face some complications. Lyda Sullivan, Parker's mother, said "Stanley's injuries weren't apparent at first, but as we were getting ready to leave the hospital, he began to complain that his chest hurt, and that he had an irregular heartbeat. So the doctors checked it out, and decided to keep him in the hospital a little longer until the heartbeat became regular. They did more X-rays, and then they admitted him into the Vicksburg Medical Center. A surgeon looked at the X-rays, and saw that there was something strange about the aorta. They did more X-rays, and told us that it might be pulled or torn where it connects the heart. They sent us to St. Dominic's, so that they could do a CAT-SCAN to see exactly where the tear was. They discovered the extent of the damage, and took him in for emergency surgery."

After the surgery, Parker was in intensive care from that Friday until the next Monday. Parker, said that the reason for the fast recovery was, "determination."

The hospital let him go home the next Friday, and that night, he attended a football game at his high school, where he showed his appreciation for the fact that they had stopped the football game the week before to pray for him.

He returned to Hind, the next week and at the end of the fall semester, he received his certificate in Auto Body Repair.

Since the accident, Parker says he respects life more. "You realize it can happen to you at any time. Since then, I have buckled up every time. I had to lay in the hospital bed to realize what it was like to be helpless, and also alive."

Fashion board does commercial

On Thursday, January 21, the HCC-Raymond Fashion Board was featured in the Love Communication television commercial production for Body Works, a health and fitness center located on the perimeter road of the Jackson Metrocenter.

The models were shown participating in an aerobics class and "pumping iron" in the weight rooms at Body Works. The Fashion Board is under the direction of Susan Kendricks, modeling instructor, and Jerry Roberts, chair of the Raymond Campus Marketing Management and Fashion Merchandising Technology department.

On Tuesday, January 26, Jerry Roberts presented two "Professional Dress" workshops for the Nursing Administration department of Mississippi Baptist Medical Center.

On Tuesday, February 2, the Fashion Board presented its first show of the semester, as entertainment for the morning session of District 1 DECA. The Board was invited to perform for area high school students who competed in marketing, management, and fashion contests in the annual District 1 DECA competitions.

The competitions have been hosted by Delta Epsilon Chi, the Raymond Campus chapter (DEX) for 22 consecutive years.

According to Roberts, the involvement by DEX students in serving as guides, and assisting with the contests, parking and refreshments, helps to prepare them for their own state marketing competition. In addition, it helps them hone their professional leadership skills. Their advisors are Roberts, and Kyle Mize and Susan Kendricks.

On Wednesday, February 3, Bianca Bare, a local fragrance designer, visited the Fashion Design Fundamentals class. She discussed how she entered the business and what it takes to become successful in the fashion industry. "Bianca" and "B. Bare" are considered prestigious products in the fragrance market, according to Roberts.

Severe weather awareness week

The week of February 8-12, 1993 has been proclaimed Mississippi Severe Weather Awareness Week by Governor Kirk Fordice.

The National Weather Service and the Mississippi Emergency Management Agency are once again asking for your help in spreading information to the public about the threat of severe weather and life-threatening measures to be taken when severe weather occurs. During 1992, three violent tornadoes moved through several Mississippi counties killing 18 people and injuring hundreds. This event serves as a grim reminder of how severe weather episodes can take lives and cause large numbers of injuries in only a few seconds.

A statewide tornado drill is scheduled for Wednesday, February 10th. During that morning there will be a special test of the Mississippi NOAA Weather Radio alarm system.

A TORNADO WATCH means that conditions are favorable for tornadoes to develop. You should listen to NOAA Weather Radio, or to commercial radio and television stations for the latest weather information. Keep informed! Keep an eye out for threatening conditions and be prepared to go to a safe place quickly.

A TORNADO WARNING means that a tornado has been detected by radar or a tornado has been sighted by someone. If the tornado warning is for your area, then you should go to a safe shelter immediately.

Awards Day honors scholars

Hinds Community College Awards Day, which honored 619 President's Scholars and 1,177 Dean's Scholars, was held March 11th on the Raymond Campus.

The program, honoring the 1,796 students, was sponsored by Phi Theta Kappa, the international junior college honor society. Since 1918 PTK has recognized intellectual achievement in American two year colleges. The Hinds' Phi Theta Kappa chapters sponsoring the program were: Gamma Lambda-Raymond Campus; Alpha Zeta Omega Jackson Campus - Academic/Technical Center; Alpha Iota Kappa Jackson Campus - Nursing/Allied Health Center; Alpha Omicron Omega Rankin Campus; and the Alpha Beta XI - Utica Campus. The Raymond Campus chapter was chartered in 1936 and is the oldest charter in Mississippi.

Awards day was instituted at Hinds in 1979 by Hinds President Dr. Clyde Muse and the Special Activities Committee as a means of recognizing superior achievement in scholarship.

Students named to the President's list must have achieved a 4.0 grade point average for a minimum of 12 semester hours while those named to the Dean's list must have a 3.5 to 3.9 cumulative grade point average for a minimum of 12 semester hours. The scholars were presented by Hinds President Dr. Clyde Muse.

State Senator Grey Ferris and Representative Tom Weathersby participated in the program with a Legislative presentation which honored Hinds student Debbie McCabe and technical instructor Lonnie Harper.

The guest speaker for the program was Mercer B. Miller, Jr., a retired major from the Mississippi Air National Guard. He has worked in various capacities in the field of education and currently is serving as field representative for U.S. Senator Trent Lott. Miller has also worked as staff assistant, and legislation coordinator for Agriculture and Education for Lott.

Crime at Colleges

In a recent edition of the Jackson Clarion-Ledger, it listed the number of crimes committed throughout the 24 state universities, colleges and community colleges.

These statistics are now required by the Federal Government and the recent report was for the period July 1991 through June 1992.

In this report it shows that Hinds had 90 reported incidents which put it in third place overall. However, some facts that you must take into consideration about Hinds are: it is the state's second largest college with 13,210 students that were used in this report; it is located near the state's largest city of nearly a half million people in the surrounding area; that Hinds has seven locations; and most of all that not all of these reported incidents were involving Hinds students but outsiders visiting the different locations. Now, all of a sudden Hinds' report doesn't sound so bad after all.

Of the incidents reported, the most common were liquor violations with 48 arrests. This ranked fourth in the state. The second offense was burglary with 25 arrests putting Hinds up with the major universities in this category. Other violations and arrests consisted of robbery, aggravated assault, motor-vehicle theft and weapon possession. However, Hinds had no reported cases of rape, drugs, or murders. Maybe this is because Hinds students have a little more respect for fellow students and that the Campus Police are doing a good job. Yet, the problem still remains that we still have a record that needs to be improved and even though we are great in number, the first solution to the problem is not to commit the offense. Also, sometimes students need counseling in problem areas that they find hard to handle, which might help to cut down on the number of campus crimes.

Whatever the solution is, the students, faculty and administration will have to work together in solving our problems.

HINDS COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT - Student Publications Policy Statement: The Hinds Community College District sponsors student publications on the Raymond and Utica campuses under the direction of the District Public Relations Office.

Senate Notes

by Michael McMillan

For the second time in two years the Student Senate is considering a proposal to establish a school funded health clinic on the Raymond Campus. Last year it died in committee. Those in favor as well as those opposed both have strong views.

Those in favor cite the need for Hinds to have a clinic to retain accreditation as a Community College. They also maintain that at least 85% of the student body would support a raise in tuition to finance a health clinic.

Those opposed, however, have quite a different opinion. They firmly believe that those who have family doctors would not have a need for a clinic, and the money each student would be required to pay would in fact finance a school supported "medical welfare clinic." They continue their opposition by saying that it should be voluntary to pay into such a system.

It is an accepted fact by both sides that tuition would be increased and every full-time student would, under the present plan be required to pay into the system.

Both sides have good arguments and strong convictions. The Senate will most likely vote on the "Health Clinic Proposal" soon. Please study what I have said and discuss with your friends this proposal. If I can answer any questions please call me at 857-3388 or leave a message in the suggestion box in the lobby of the library.

Lady Bulldogs finish season

The Hinds' Lady Bulldogs basketball team took a seed in the Region 23 Community/Junior College Basketball Tournament played at Mississippi College.

After the number one Co-Lin Lady Wolves and the number two Pearl River Lady Wildcats, Hinds was the next team in the south division with the best overall record, 14-12, giving them a seed in the tournament and another chance to attend the National Tournament in Tyler, Texas if they could capture the Region 23 title.

Hinds, who won the Region 23 title in 1991, had to again face the unbeaten Co-Lin Lady Wolves in their first round of play and suffered a 79-62 defeat by the Co-Lin team. Latina Edwards piled up 29 points for Hinds while Megan Riebock made 25 for Co-Lin.

The Lady Wolves then went on to beat East Mississippi 62-50 and faced the Lady Wildcats of Pearl River for the Region 23 title and defeated them 66-60 giving Co-Lin another trip to the nationals with a 32-0 record.

In men's action in the Region 23 Tournament the State Championship East Central Warriors were knocked out of contention by the Jones Bobcats who then faced the Bulldogs of Gulf Coast for the chance to go to the National Tournament in Hutchinson, Kansas.

In the championship game for the Region 23 title Gulf Coast easily claimed the title with a 78-54 win over Jones and another trip to the nationals.

Utica Campus hosts tournament

The Hinds men's and women's basketball teams on the Utica Campus were host to the Mississippi Community/Junior College South Division Basketball Tournament this season but neither were in the top slots at the finish as the undefeated Co-Lin women and the Gulf Coast men won the South Division Tournament.

Both the Hinds Bulldogs and Lady Bulldogs entered the tournament with matching records, 13-11 overall and 6-6 in division play.

The Hinds' men were knocked out of play in their first game against the Wolves of Copiah-Lincoln with the Wolves taking a 5-point lead and winning 84-79. Hinds was seeded fifth in the division and Co-Lin was fourth. High scorers for Hinds were Jeff Willis with 20, Corey Speech with 18 and Penn Majors with 16.

However, in round two of tournament play for the Hinds' Lady Bulldogs, they were faced with the unbeaten 26-0 Lady Wolves of Copiah-Lincoln. Hinds pushed the Lady Wolves for 30 minutes but then Co-Lin took command and finished with a 76-58 victory over the Lady Bulldogs of Hinds. Latina Edwards claimed 30 of Hinds 58 points.

Teams going on to win the State Tournament played at Gulf Coast were the undefeated 29-0 Lady Wolves of Co-Lin defeating the Lady Tigers of Northeast and the East Central men taking the title after beating the Gulf Coast men for the state title.

Alumni plan Softball Classic

The Hinds County Alumni Chapter's Sixth Annual Eagle Classic will light up the Davis Road Softball Complex, Saturday, May 22.

The tournament is expected to attract a field of nearly 40 teams in the D and E divisions, to battle for the National Softball Association's State and Regional Tournament berths.

Under the direction of NSA State Director Derrick Chapman, the Classic is expected to expand to include teams from Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and surrounding states.

The event's organizers stress that sponsors and donors are needed as in the past, to add the special touches the Classic is noted for ... all the prizes, trophies and refreshments.

Theater major looks for career in New York

Recently a theater major traveled to Arlington, Virginia so that he could prove his talents to others around the country, not just Mississippians. His name is Mitchell Moore, and he recently participated in the Southeastern Theater Conference where potential actor and actresses are chosen to display their acting ability from among many other hopefuls.

Moore, received three call backs as a result of his talents. This simply means that three theater companies were interested in his skills, and they want him to come back this summer so that they can see more. While not trying out, Moore wants to work for Horn in the West, which is an acting company located in North Carolina.

Moore is currently the president of Hinds's theatrical organization The Lendon Players. Moore is only a freshman, but acting here at Hinds is nothing new to him. He has been in such crowd pleasers as "Importance of Being Earnest," "Ten Little Indians," "Arkiology," where he had the lead, and "Darkside." He has helped with The Lendon Players for five years, even while he was in high school.

After finishing at Hinds, Moore plans on continuing to reach his goal of being in professional theater at Neighborhood Playhouse School of the Theater in New York.

Moore's favorite quote is one from Paul "Bear" Bryant, "If you believe in yourself and have dedication and pride and never quit, you'll be a winner. The price of victory is high, but so are the rewards."

ATC Center holds Career Fair '93

The Jackson Academic and Technical Center was the setting for Career Fair '93 on February 17, 1993.

Participants from business and industry included Packard Electric, Mississippi Valley Gas Company, Jackson Fire Department, Jackson Police Department, City of Jackson, St. Paul Learning Center, Bureau of Land Management, South Central Bell, Mississippi Department of Public Safety, Trustmark National Bank and the U.S. Army. College and University representatives were Millsaps College, Tougaloo College, Mississippi College, Rust College, University Medical Center, University of Southern Mississippi, Alcorn State University, Mississippi State University, and Jackson State University.

The representatives from businesses, industries, colleges and universities informed students of the necessary preparation for the career of their choice or their academic pursuits.

Mr. Joseph Larry of the Mississippi Employment Security Commission was the keynote speaker for this event. Larry began his informative speech by stressing the value of an education for success in the workplace. He pointed out characteristics that employers look for in employees which include:

- 1) the ability to learn
- 2) willingness to listen
- 3) good oral communication skills
- 4) problem solving skills
- 5) a positive self esteem
- 6) goal setting skills
- 7) leadership
- 8) personal career development

Mr. Larry mentioned several factors that should help you to have a good interview such as good personal appearance, enthusiasm, good eye contact, reading and following instructions on the application form, and researching the company before the interview.

Larry concluded with six questions commonly asked during the interview.

- 1) Tell me about yourself
- 2) Would your last employer hire you again?
- 3) Why do you want to work for my company?
- 4) What special skills do you have?
- 5) What salary do you expect?
- 6) Do you have any questions?

The goal of the Career Fair was to expose our students to business and industry, as well as to university and college recruiters.

Orientation designed for new students

All new students who are entering Hinds Community College this fall should plan to attend orientation at the location of their choice.

Orientation is designed to give entering freshmen a thorough introduction to college life from the students' perspectives.

Opportunities are given for students to meet college administrators, faculty and fellow classmates in an informal setting.

Clare Thomas, orientation coordinator on the Raymond Campus, said, "This helps students identify with their new 'home away from home'."

She continued, "Our student orientation leaders are the very best source of information for anyone who is just beginning his or her education."

Student orientation leaders are specially trained to help students understand policies, and procedures, and to inform them of where to go for assistance. Tours of facilities are also provided.

Thomas said, "We have a lot of fun also."

Students who have already made plans to attend Hinds will receive a letter which will remind them of the upcoming orientation date.

Those who have not yet enrolled should contact a counselor at the Hinds location they wish to attend to receive more information on orientation.

Parents are encouraged to accompany their student(s) to orientation for a special "Parent's Day" session.

The Raymond Campus will hold its orientation on Thursday, August 19, while the Utica Campus is also currently planning its date for mid-August.

Call the Raymond Campus at 857-3468 or the Utica Campus at 354-2327 or 885-6062.

Art teachers win awards

Raymond Campus art instructors were among the artists showing their work in the "Art by Art Teachers" exhibit which runs in Marie Hull Gallery through April 8. Exhibiting with other members of the Mississippi Art Educators Association are Gayle McCarty, Michael McCarty, and Bob Dunaway.

All three Hinds instructors won Purchase Awards, the most coveted awards in any art exhibit. Purchasing one piece each from Gayle McCarty and Dunaway and two other exhibitors, and two pieces from Michael McCarty, were Deposit Guaranty National Bank, Merchants and Farmers Bank, Bank of Mississippi, and Mississippi Chemical Company.

Simultaneously, the works of Gayle McCarty were the subject of a one-woman exhibit, "The Rites of Passage," through the month of March at Itawamba Community College. In her first solo exhibit McCarty, who includes the teaching of ceramics and cast paper making in her curriculum, included eleven cast paper pieces and eight pottery assemblages.

McCarty, director of Marie Hull Gallery, credits the HCC Arts and Lecture Series and Mississippi and the Arts Week lectures which bring a variety of artists to the campus, for opening up new areas of learning for instructors to pass along to students, in addition to pointing the way to new avenues for their own creativity.

"It was Randy Jolly's (Hinds alumnus and former Hinds instructor) paper casting demonstration for Arts Week several years ago that introduced me to this process," she says, "and now it is part of my design class curriculum, as well as being something that I incorporate into my own work."

"This shows how when faculty experiences something new, we can turn it around to benefit the students," she says.

She states, "In order to teach with credibility, we must keep learning; and, in art, we can only learn by watching and doing."

MESS AMERICA WINNERS - The Hinds Connection recently held their annual "Mess America Pageant." Winners in the pageant were from left: Daryl Owens as Victoria Ricci-2nd Runner-up; Charles Lucroy as Charlotte "I can give em to ya" Lucroy-1st Runner-up; Michael Anderson as Michelle-Mess America; and Randy Hilton as Thelma Roses Harper-Spirit of Mess America. Raymond PTK inducts 163

The Raymond Campus chapter of Phi Theta Kappa recently received special commendation during the Phi Theta Kappa Regional Convention. The "Gamma Lambdas" received this award because of their ability to successfully complete the requirements for the distinction of being named a "Three-Star Chapter".

Among the requirements was their participation in setting up service programs. With programs like the Salvation Army and Adopt-A-highway, the Gamma Lambdas received certificates of appreciation, and acknowledgment. Also, they filled another requirement with the burial of the Time Capsule in front of the McLendon Library.

The chapter was also required to provide informational programs to members, and to send representatives to the Annual Convention. Their next convention will be held on April 15-17 in Dallas.

Finally the chapter must publish a newsletter or place chapter news in college publications. They have fulfilled this requirement by placing stories in The Hindsonian, so look for them in further issues.

In addition to the regional recognition Gamma Lambda will receive, the chapter will also receive international recognition. Their achievement will be published in the 1993 International Awards Program.

The chapter also participated in one of Hinds' largest Phi Theta Kappa inductions where 163 new members were inducted.

Hinds President Dr. Clyde Muse welcomed the initiates and their friends and family while the guest speaker for the ceremony was Mike Watson, Director of Development and Public Affairs for the National

Lendon Players present comedy

What do you call a musical that has no music in it? Nothing other than Ken Ludwig's "Lend Me A Tenor." It is a two act comedy that takes place in 1934 in a hotel suite in Cleveland, Ohio.

The play opens up with Max, the assistant to the general manager of the Cleveland Opera Company, waiting for the arrival of Merelli Tito, a famous Italian Tenor. But, Tito doesn't show up on time; therefore, Max tells Maggie, the daughter of Saunders, the general manager of the opera company, that he can sing just as well as Tito. Maggie doubts Max, and asks how could he compare himself to Tito.

When Tito finally shows up, he doesn't feel completely well, and lays down. He had a prescription for Phenobarbital, which would help him sleep, but he refuses to take them. Because of his ill feeling, he asks Max to sing for him, and that he would give him lessons. They both decide to take some drinks, while Tito's wife packs up to leave.

Well, they take a drink, but not until Max slips some Phenobarbital into Tito's drink, and then out he goes. When Saunders tries to wake up Tito he can't, and is stuck with the decision of either using Max or canceling the show. So, he uses Max.

The show turns out to be a big success, and so does Max. As for the response of the others about the show, and about Max making himself out to be Tito ... Well, you have to go see the show.

The show is being put on by The Lendon Players, and will run April 28 through May 1 in Brooks Theatre. The cost is $5 for adults, $3 for non-Hinds students, and free to students with a valid Hinds I.D. For reservations call the Speech and Theatre Department at 857-3266.

Goodbye Yesterday; Hello Tomorrow

The 1992-93 school term is finally coming to an end. To an end of homework and study for some, and to the beginning of the beach and work for others

Most students will have a little larger view on life and their future, while others will still be exploring to find out what their future holds. But, no matter what it may be, those that graduate or leave Hinds this year will take with them many memories. Either good or bad, they will be memories that will never be forgotten, and those returning will be able to continue to make many more memories.

Students this year were the first to eat in the new cafeteria. A cafeteria that made eating more enjoyable with its atmosphere and with its choices. Also, students witnessed the burial of the time capsule, by the Phi Theta Kappa, which holds a period of time that we can call our own.

Students were also able to create friendships that will last a life time. Some friendships will get lost in the world somewhere, while others will always linger around. Many will make new friends, with some possibly becoming life-long commitments. No matter what they become, you can say it happened, and that it will never totally be forgotten.

For those that are leaving Hinds this year, "Break A Leg" in whatever journey you decide to embark on. For those returning next semester may it prove even more successful than this year, and be even better than your semesters here so far ...

MODELING CLASS - The 1993 Fashion Modeling class, instructed by Susan Kendricks, is shown participating in a yoga demonstration directed by Debbie Lewis. The modeling class has had a busy year with other exciting activities that has enabled them to get experience while having fun. They have participated in local television commercials and fashion shows. Several speakers have been invited to speak to the modeling students on subjects such as nutrition, color coordinating, make-up tips, and sunning. Starting the 1993 Fall semester off right, the Fashion Modeling class will bring in a new school term with their first fashion show, which will be on August 19, 1993. To become a part of the Squad, you must try out. Tryouts will be held on August 23, 1993. If you are interested in learning about fashion, modeling, and many other exciting activities like the one pictured above, then come be a part of a wonderful learning experience.

CHANGE IN FINANCIAL AID SATISFACTORY PROGRESS POLICY

The new policy change reads as follows:

Cumulative Semester Hours Attempted ♦ 1-18
Minimum Cumulative Semester Hours
Required to Pass ♦ 6

♦ A student enrolled in less than 6 hours must pass all hours attempted with the minimum required cumulative grade point average.

HINDS COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT - Student Publications Policy Statement: The Hinds Community College District sponsors student publications on the Raymond and Utica campuses under the direction of the District Public Relations Office.

The student publications do not represent officially the Administration of the Hinds Community College District; however, the District does provide professional staff supervision of these publications in order to provide a responsible context for the freedom of expression of its students.

Food for Thought

As this year comes to a close I would like to reflect on the accomplishments made possible by the College, the ASG, and the Food Committee in helping us in trying to meet the needs of you, the student. As each of us are individuals with diverse taste and different preferences, imagine 1,000 - 1,400 different preferences. Ask your mom, or if you have to prepare food or work in a food environment, you know this is no easy task. However, with the valued input that we received and the task put before us we got to see a state-of-the-art new cafeteria that is second to none in the state. With the exception of a few needs and wants through your ASG and food committee we have been able to focus on next semester's needs for the student. So when someone asks "Where's the Beef" voice your opinion to the SGA and food committee representatives and we will listen and respond as we have in the past. Thanks again for your input as to the way you want your food service to be.

Sincerely,
Gary Whittemore
District Food Service Director
HCC/VIMS

As the semester comes to an end, I would like to thank those who have supported the ASG with their comments and suggestions by using our suggestion box.

ASG tries to meet the needs of the students and we could not have accomplished some of our goals without your input and support.

There have been several changes in the cafeteria this year already which include not having hamburgers every day, menus placed on napkin holders, and bulletin boards.

I understand that there are many other needs and your ASG is working on several things to benefit you, the student. Some of these are the quantity of food, better food on the weekends and more tables and chairs.

Again I thank you for your support and participation and next semester remember to use the suggestion box and let us know your ideas on ways to improve the cafeteria service.

Jamey Keith, Chairman
ASG Food & Service

Legal Club has speakers

The Legal Club, Raymond Campus, recently had Peyton Randolph, Esquire as the monthly speaker. His topic was on the "Realities in the Law Office, After the Classroom." Randolph employs two HCC Paralegal Graduates from the Raymond Campus.

Paralegal students in the Legal Research Class on the Raymond campus attended the required hours of the West Publishing Company seminar on WestLaw, on-line legal research. Each student was presented a certificate from WestLaw to indicate they successfully completed this seminar.

On April 27, at 9:30 AM, Hinds County District Attorney, Ed Peters, was on the Raymond Campus to present a current emphasis on "Justice For All" in keeping with the ABA theme for Law Week.

Senate Notes

by Michael McMillan

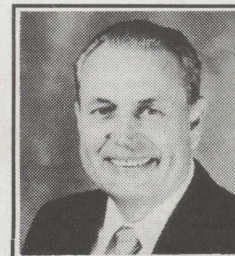

Your Associated Student Government has conducted its final senate meeting for the 1992-1993 school year.

We have done our best to promote the things you wanted and we thought would benefit the students of Hinds Community College. Every single Senator in the Student Government has done their best and worked extremely hard these past two semesters. Your officers, Becky Criswell, Windy Palmore, and Daniel Ware, have at times carried the senate "on their shoulders" to see that goals were accomplished and deadlines met. Whatever has been achieved is, and should be, a tribute to the advisors, officers, senators, and most of all to the faculty of this school.

Next year, new officers will take control and guide the Senate in new and different ways, hopefully, to achieve many great and exciting things. Please give them your utmost support so that they, working together, will know clearly where you want them to lead the Senate.

Personally, I have enjoyed serving you as Vice-President and will always remember the wonderful time I had at Hinds Community College. I will always look back to my time at Hinds and look forward to seeing many of you in the future.

"Presidential Speaking"

by
Dr. Clyde Muse

I appreciate the contribution that all faculty, staff, and students have made to our success this year. Hinds Community College exists for students. I hope that your experiences here have been pleasurable and rewarding and that the excitement of learning will not fade. For those of you who have not finished the College's offerings in your course of study, I welcome your return to Hinds Community College to continue your studies with us. Whatever your future plans may be, I trust that you will continue your education - a life long process. At no time has it been more incumbent upon an individual to keep up with the rapidly changing needs of our society, to adjust to the demands of the job market, to upgrade old skills and to learn new ones, and to learn about other cultures and people. There is always more to be learned.

As the school year draws to a close, my wife, Vashti, and I have the pleasure of attending events which recognize the contributions and achievements of a great number of Hinds Community College students. As we meet with and speak to these students, we can't help but feel their pride and share their success. I know that Hinds Community College will always hold a special place in their memories, as it will ours.

Each year brings a new group of students, a more ambitious set of goals for the College, and a consistent display of hard work from our students, faculty, and staff as the College works to maintain its commitment to quality education.

I hope that all of you who are finishing your work with us will become active members of the Alumni Association. We would like to stay in touch. Best wishes for a good vacation.

Hinds instructor rides with L.A. police

Since the Rodney King case and the riots that followed in the city of 13 million, Los Angeles Police force has had nationwide publicity. So, Jo Hollman, Sociology instructor here at Hinds, went to check out the riots that the Los Angeles Police Department's officers are calling "City Storm".

Hollman was a "ride along" with Sgt. Brenda Gordon of the Rampart Unit. The Rampart Unit is said to be the roughest and toughest in Los Angeles. Hollman says the first thing Sgt. Gordon asked her was "Do you want a vest?" "Until check-out at the end of the shift, it was an adrenaline rush not available to many citizens" said Hollman concerning her experience wearing the vest. Tightly secured in the bullet-proof vest, holding a flashlight as long as her arm, and with a set of keys and radio instructions in case something should happen to her, she climbed into the black and white vehicle for an exciting "cross cultural experience".

In two minutes Hollman says there were three calls. That included anything and everything. Sgt. Gordon, in her position as Sergeant, answered any call that came in, made assignments to patrolmen, supervised their performance, and gave any needed support or back-up assistance. Because of her experience, at the age of 52, Sgt. Gordon was referred to as "Mama" by other officers. She received calls from officers young and old who needed to discuss their personal problems, and she did.

At the end of the shift, the officers stood around, and told Hollman "We are sorry that it was such a slow night; if you'll come back tomorrow we'll try to show you some action." But, with records like 1,100 homicides last year, and four officers shot (three of them died) in just one week, they must have been doing something.

Ms. Hollman was afforded this opportunity through her friendship with Sgt. Clint Dona, who attended Mississippi College. Officer Dona spoke to several Criminal Justice and Sociology classes when he visited Hinds Community College recently. A video tape of his speech on domestic violence is available for viewing in the Media Center.

HOLLMAN VISITS L. A. - Hinds psychology instructor Jo Hollman visited Los Angeles and got to ride on patrol with the L. A. Police Department but all criminal justice instructor Godfrey Garner got from Los Angeles was this shirt.
